Primary school parking wrangle

PARENTS have been told they can no longer park at a nearby pub when dropping off their children at a Cannock primary school.

The decision comes after a spat involving the landlord's wife.

From this week, parents and visitors to Longford Primary, in Ascot Drive, are banned from parking at the Ascot Tavern opposite.

Drivers who flout the ban will have their wheels clamped and police have been notified of the new arrangements.

Headteacher at Longford, Emma Stote, said: "Mr Dainty, the licensee, has taken these measures due to the verbal abuse of his wife by one of our parents."

"I would like to thank Mr Dainty for allowing us to use his facilities in the past and extend my sincere apologies on behalf of Longford for the upset caused."

Car parking is still allowed on the old Langborne house site, in Longford Road.

Meanwhile, Year 6 pupils came face-to-face with Walsall footballers and a camera crew last week.

The youngsters' interview with the players was screened on the Late Kick Off sport programme, which was shown on Monday night on BBC1.

Mrs Stote added: "The children as usual were a credit to our school; we are very proud of them."

Saddlers stars Jon Macken and Paul Marshall went back to school to take part in the question and answer session.

The visit was part of the club's Community Programme's links.

Striker Macken said: "It was really enjoyable. The kids were great and full of energy."

"They asked Paul and I about our training, our best goal, what we do in a spare time; everything really."

"It's great to get out there and speak to the youngsters."

TRIBUTES PAID TO COUNCILLOR

A GREAT Wyrley parish councillor who won fights for so many people has lost his battle with cancer just one month after being diagnosed.

Councillor Brian Wood, passed away, last Wednesday (March 9), aged 65, at his home in Bentons Lane, surrounded by his family.

Four weeks ago the councillor, who had already spent one month in hospital, was diagnosed with primary and secondary tumours.

After suffering pains in his shoulder and back Councillor Wood's condition was thought to be a trapped nerve but as his mobility lessened, further tests revealed the worst.

For his final ten days, Councillor Wood was cared for at home by wife Sue and the hospice at home service.

Mrs Wood, who also sits on the parish council, said since her husband retired last year, he never fully got the chance to benefit from it.

"This has all happened exceedingly quickly and it just shows that you can't afford to put things off in life," she said. "People who have known Brian for more than 20 years ago have been in touch and many more have said they will come and pay their respects at the funeral – there is definitely going to be a good turnout for him.

"I have run out of room for all the sympathy cards, and that shows how much he was respected by everyone."

"The support that we received from the hospice was superb and they helped make Brian comfortable at a very difficult time."

"His funeral is a chance for him to be in the spotlight one last time."

Mrs Wood added: "The community have lost a dedicated councillor who would always go out of his way to help people any way he could."

"He won fights for so many people but unfortunately he couldn't win the most important one."

Councillor Wood had been on the council for 20 years, since he was first elected back in 1991.

Stints

He was also a former South Staffordshire District Councillor and retired last year from his work as a local government housing officer.

He served three stints as parish council chairman as well as sitting as chair of the planning committee and the leisure and services committee.

Parish clerk Mike Holder said: "Brian dedicated his whole life to public services and serving the local community. He was a very active and loyal servant to the district as well as to a number of community groups in and around the area."

"He will be sadly missed and his experience and breadth of knowledge will be a huge loss to us all at the council."

"Brian was a man that spoke his mind and while his fellow councillors didn't always agree with him they all had a deep respect for his work and his beliefs."

The funeral service will take place in the Wesley Methodist Church, on Wednesday March 23, at 10.30am, before he is laid to rest in Great Wyrley Cemetery. There will be family flowers and all donations will go to St Giles Hospice and Marie Curie Cancer Care.

Bobbies on the beat at nursery

TODDLERS in Rugeley became bobbies on the beat for a day as part of a nursery activity.

Horn End Nursery, on Wharf Road, had a special role play area decked out with police hats, uniform, wanted posters and other equipment.

The items were brought in by a parent of one of the nursery youngsters, who happens to be a police officer and deputy manager Louise Hutchins said they were very gratefully received.

"He came in and gave the children a talk about what it means to be a police officer," she added. "They had a look at his police car and learnt all about how he worked in the community."

The role play area changes every month around a particular theme, with the latest being 'people who help us'.

Help at hand for jobseekers

A PROSPECTIVE councillor will be parking up the Jobs Bus in Chadsmoor next week – with a little help from Pertemps.

Claire Wixon, currently the constituency manager to MP Aidan Burley, has joined forces with the people development group to offer free help and advice on computer courses for jobseekers in the area.

They will be at Moss Street car park on Tuesday (March 22) from 9.30am until lunch before moving to Chadsmoor Primary School, Kingsway from 2-4pm.

Claire, a Cannock East ward candidate in May's local elections, said: "Pertemps are joining me to talk to local residents and parents regarding free computer courses available to the people of Staffordshire."

"These can be completed from home or various locations throughout Staffordshire," she added.

The bag-packing actors hoping to pack in audience

DETERMINED thespians have raised £6,500 to stage their first production this week since reforming a year ago.

In between fundraising, the Cannock-based Backstreet Theatre Company has been rehearsing the rock opera Rent based in 1980s New York.

The group disbanded five years ago when interest dwindled but four original members got together to but the company back on the road.

The 20-strong group had to raise £3,500 for the set and £1,000 for radio mics. Costume and set organiser Jo Goulding said among the fundraising activities were three sessions of bag packing at Morrisons. At the same time, there have been holding weekly rehearsals at Norton Canes Library.

Mother-of-two Jo said: "There's so much enthusiasm in the group, we just hope people turn out to support us. The show itself has a very positive vibe."

It runs at the town's Prince of Wales Theatre from today (Thursday) until Saturday. To book tickets call 01543 578762.

Dancers cannot have full use of civic centre facilities

A NEW radio station has hit the air waves in Burntwood – run by students at a local school.

Pupils at Chase Terrace Technology College launched their venture on Friday and used the occasion to raise money for another radio station, the children's charity Radio Lollipop.

The students were crestfallen when veteran popstar Tony Christie pulled out of the official launch at the last minute.

The Lichfield-based star was in Germany promoting his latest single and could not attend.

Instead, actor Jake Hendricks who played Father Kieron in the Channel 4 soap Hollyoaks, stepped in to perform the honours before going on stage at the Wolverhampton Grand where he was appearing in Cranford.

Catherine Bennett, one of the 50 students who help to run the station, said: "The main aim of the night was to recognise the hard work of all the staff and students who helped set it up and to raise money for Radio Lollipop."

She said the college station, called Chase Terrace Radio, would be broadcast at lunchtimes and breaks.

Chase Terrace Technology College pupils Hannah Buchanan, left, and Richard Elson at the launch of the school's new radio station. They are both presenters on the station

THE leaseholder of Hednesford's Aquarius Ballroom, which closes in May, says he is disappointed with a council's decision to not let dancers have full use of the civic centre ballroom.

The Aquarius has thousands of people through its doors each week for dance classes.

But leaseholder Mike Allsopp said he could not understand why the council has made the decision. He also runs his own Ceroc dancing class sessions at the Aquarius, Victoria Street.

He said he had believed, after speaking to the council for the past year that they would give him full use of the facilities in Beecroft Road, Cannock – so was shocked when the decision was made for him only to be able to 'block book' time for the classes.

"We wanted to be able to use the civic centre room to its full advantage," he said. "We were led to believe that all the classes would be fine to move from the Aquarius to the Civic Hall."

"Aquarius needs to be vacated by the end of May while a replacement is being built so we are going to be homeless. But then the council came back to say they aren't prepared to do it, and all we can do is block book it. But this is going to cost us so much money."

"We could give them so much business if we could have full use of it, and also make full use of the rooms as we have thousands of people using Aquarius a week."

"It's not just dancing we have, but it's a centre for the community, for socialising, and is a way for people to keep fit."

"We do want to still work with the council on this and hope that something can be done about it," he added.

At a meeting last week, members of dance classes who used the ballroom voiced their concerns. But Cannock Chase Council economic development manager Glenn Watson said a replacement community facility, being built as part of the Chase Gate development, would include a dance floor. That development is not due to be completed until early 2013.

He said talks were taking place with Mr Allsopp to find a temporary venue.

Corporate director Tony McGovern told dancers the council was not in a position to give "full exclusive use of the ballroom".

TEN pupils will be staging an "all-nighter" to raise cash tomorrow (Friday).

The youngsters from Great Wyrley Performing Arts and Cheslyn Hay Sport and Community High Schools are staying awake from 8pm until 8am the following day in St Mark's Church Hall, Station Road, Great Wyrley.

The exhausting fundraiser is in aid of the Link 4 Life Project. It was founded by churches in Great Wyrley to bring together churches, schools and the community to support the work of three Christian charities in Africa.

Newborn

The students are raising funds for a two-week visit to South Africa in July.

The three charities to benefit are Hands @ Work in Africa, working with those affected by HIV/AIDS in Africa, Mercy Air, a mission aviation group which uses light aircraft to fly people, goods and materials throughout southern Africa, and the Baby Bear Project, which supports a maternity hospital in Durban, South Africa, giving mothers and their newborn babies clothes, nappies and a knitted teddy.

To find out more, or to sponsor the students, email westwood.richard@btinternet.com or telephone 01922 419161.

The seminar, called Clubs at the Heart of a Sporting Future for the West Midlands, has been organised by Sport Dudley, a branch of Sport West Midlands.

As well as Miss Hoey, MP for Vauxhall, in Lambeth, south London, since 1989, and other speeches will be made by Anne Rippon, Dave Long and Liz Hubbard.

It takes place at Cannock Cricket and Hockey Club, Church Lane, from 6.30pm.

Entry is free and refreshments will be available.

£170k rugby clubhouse

WORK is under way on a £170,000 extension to the clubhouse at Burntwood Rugby Club.

It will give the club at The Sportsway two new changing rooms and a new entrance area and lobby for the Brendwood function room upstairs.

There will be facilities for disabled visitors, including a lift for access to the first floor. The majority of the funding has come from the Rugby Football Union, which donated almost £97,000.

Additional cash was provided by the Staffordshire Environmental Fund - £30,000, Lichfield District Council Section 106 Fund - £10,000, Awards for All - £9,785 and Staffordshire County Council - £1,000. The remainder was raised by club members.

The extension is being built by Crown Cuttings Services, of Queen Street Industrial Estate, Burntwood.

Play area at last to go with energy-efficient homes

Children's paradise on new-look estate

An artist's impressions of the new housing estate in Chadsmoor

THE first artist's impressions of new properties that will be built soon on Cannock's Elizabeth Road estate have been revealed.

They show how the transformed estate at Chadsmoor will eventually look, with landscaped open space and a play area for children. The energy-efficient properties will be a mix of two, three and four-bedroom homes.

Councillors and officers from Cannock Chase Council were joined by representatives of Waterloo Housing Group and the Homes and Communities Agency to see the work that is being carried out.

Birmingham-based specialist firm DSM is on site to demolish structurally defective properties before they are replaced with 150 quality new homes for rent or sale. The council is working with Waterloo Housing Association - part of the Waterloo Housing Group - on the major redevelopment.

An artist's impression of how the Elizabeth Road estate will eventually look Funding support has been provided by the Homes and Communities Agency through the Kickstart programme, which is aimed at supporting high-quality housing schemes affected by market conditions.

The first phase of 50 new homes is due for completion in spring next year. A further 100 homes are planned in future phases.

Progress

Many of the existing homes on the estate suffered from low thermal efficiencies, insecure gardens and inadequate or non-existent parking.

The estate currently has no play facilities.

The redevelopment will change all this for future residents.

Baggi Mattu, investment and regeneration manager for the Homes and Communities Agency in the Midlands, said: "We are pleased that HCA investment has enabled this scheme to get on site and we look forward to seeing its progress."

Defective houses will be replaced with energy-efficient family homes

Leader of Cannock Chase Council, Councillor Neil Stanley, right, and Councillor Phil Freeman lead the celebrations as work gets under way

Party time at anniversary of café team

A COMMUNITY service for Alzheimer's sufferers is marking its third anniversary next week.

The Alzheimer's Café holds drop-in sessions at locations across Staffordshire including Cannock and Burntwood. It was established in March 2008 and designed to bring Alzheimer's patients and their carers together to share experiences over a drink and a bite to eat.

Based in Codsall, the service is managed by the Carers' Association Southern Staffordshire (CASS) and now has a regular attendance of around 50 members.

Debbie Hill, of CASS, said: "The cafés offer a vital service for those affected by Dementia; a place to come and meet other people in a relaxed non-judgemental atmosphere, where you can receive support and make new friends."

Existing

The anniversary café will take place next Tuesday, March 22, and those attending will be able to enjoy the singing delights of Kate's Party, a favourite with regulars.

Speakers from local agencies will also be at the event to offer support for carers who care for someone with a dementia type illness.

CASS has issued an open invitation to new and existing members to attend the event, which takes place from noon at Codsall Village Hall, Wolverhampton Road.

For details, visit www.carersinformation.org.uk or call Debbie Hill on 07843 367145 or 01785 606675.

Eyes down at school

IT will be eyes down for a bingo fundraiser at a Cannock school tomorrow (Friday).

It takes place at Longford Primary School, in Ascot Drive, from 6.30-8.30pm. Admission is free and refreshments will be served.

On Sunday, March 27, from 11am to 1pm, the school is staging a treasure hunt at the Cannock Chase Visitor Centre, Marquis Drive.

Call the school on 01543 510390 for more details on either event.

Children help with £700 sale

A BURNWOOD school raised more than £700 from a table-top sale organised by pupils.

Chase Terrace Technology College, in Bridge Cross Road, hosted the sale earlier this month to raise money for Pancreatic Cancer UK.

They raffled off prizes and sold craft items as part of a project undertaken by Special Education Needs (SEN) youngsters.

Work from the project will count towards a Certificate of Personal Effectiveness (CoPE) - the equivalent of a GCSE.

The department had already raised more than £1,000 for charity this year and teacher Kim Tonks said she was delighted with the latest fundraising efforts by youngsters and their families.

"They raised a huge £711.17 which is fantastic," she said.

"I am so very proud of them, they were all very mature and all said they had a great time."

Light Lent lunch date

LENT Lunches are being held at a Hednesford church hall for the next five weeks.

The lunches are every Friday from noon until 1.15pm at St Peter's Church Hall, in Church Hill.

The first was held last on March 11 and they will run until Friday, April 8. The cost is £2 with the proceeds being split between the church and Christian Aid.

History is talk of the town

BRIDGTOWN and District Local History Society will be welcoming a special guest at its next meeting.

The illustrated talk, entitled Down Memory Lane, will be given by local historian, Reg Fullelove, at Bridgtown Community Centre, Bridge Street, at 10am, next Wednesday March 23. Entry is £1 and includes refreshments.

Afghan challenge for chef

A BURNWOOD soldier had a taste of life as an Army chef – preparing a meal for 20 comrades from ration packs while withstanding a mock mortar attack.

Gunner Tom Woodward, who heads to Afghanistan later this year, is more used to manning big artillery AS90 guns.

The 17-year-old from Burntwood was taking part in Exercise Halberd Caterer, a realistic military event designed to prepare Army chefs for the rigours of an operational deployment.

Tom will be able step up to catering duties if the need arises while fighting. In the Field Catering Phase Tom helped his team prepare a two-course buffet style meal for 20 soldiers using only the contents of two ten-man standard ration packs which contain ingredients such as chicken, beef mince, noodle seasoning, soya mince, dried onions, tinned fruit cocktail in syrup, egg substitute, porridge oats, powdered milk, chocolate bars and rice.

Scenarios

It had to include two main course options and a dessert, taking into account religious and ethnic requirements.

The former Chasetown Sports College student, who joined the Army in 2009 and is based in Germany, said: "The exercise is good, it has given me idea of what chefs do. It's a lot tougher than I thought. There's loads of setting-up, lots of work, but the exercise is fun and it's good learning a new skill."

Tom added: "I don't know how these guys do it, day in day out, preparing a varied amount of meals out of rations for so many soldiers."

During the four-day exercise the detachment of soldiers completed a variety of day and night military exercises such as tower guard duty, the rules of engagement and small arms training encompassing a range of realistic scenarios including a suicide bomber infiltration attempt, simulated long range small arms, grenade and mortar attacks and casualty treatment and evacuation.

Apology sought by father

THE father of a Cannock man is seeking an apology from Staffordshire County Council over alleged sub-standard care at a home.

The care that was received by 32-year-old Kenneth Elliott at The Mount, in Wood Lane, Yoxall, near Lichfield, between 2006 and 2009 has been investigated by the council.

Mr Elliott's father Kenneth, 53, of Huntington Terrace Road, Chads-moor, said his autistic son had been in and out of care since 2002.

He said the investigation at The Mount, run by private firm Rebecca Homes, had found that his son had been left in his room with nothing to occupy him for long periods.

He believed the council's vulnerable adults protection team had not monitored the home properly.

"Kenneth was emaciated and confused, but is now very happy in St Neots, Cambridgeshire," he added.

Necessary

Ian James, director of the council's joint commissioning unit, said: "Mr Elliott's concerns about services provided to his son between 2006 and 2009 are taken very seriously."

"The council has commissioned an independent investigation in accordance with its statutory complaints procedure."

"The findings from the investigation are currently being considered and the council will take all steps necessary to ensure the quality of services it commissions."

The manager of The Mount, Mr Cliff Davis, said Rebecca Homes did not wish to comment.

Caring Kaiser the top dog Crufts show

A DOG that helps care for his disabled owner, who is formerly from Cannock, has won an award at Crufts.

Three-year-old Kaiser won the Friends for Life award, which celebrates a dog's outstanding bravery and devotion to their owners.

The public chose the golden retriever/poodle cross who cares for Joanne Day, a former Canock Chase High School pupil.

Jo, aged 37, is living with dystonia, a rare neurological disorder that causes muscle spasms and leaves her body contorted and fixed into abnormal positions.

Kaiser gives Jo independence and the confidence to leave the house and meet new people and helps with everyday tasks – such as dressing, unloading the washing machine and picking things up – that Jo otherwise finds difficult to perform.

Jo, who works part-time for the Dystonia Society, said Kaiser was "one in a million".

Pals mourn father who died in smash aged 26

Victim Jason Evans

TRIBUTES have been paid to a Burntwood father killed in a crash just days before his 27th birthday.

Jason Evans was a rear seat passenger in a Seat Ibiza that overturned in Heath Hayes.

Mr Evans, of Hawthorne Crescent, would have celebrated his birthday on Sunday (March 13). The crash was in Hayes Way at about 8.20pm on Wednesday, March 9.

A second passenger in the car was not injured.

Dozens of flowers and cards have been left at the scene. One tribute was from Mr Evans's young son, Harvey.

It said: "You are the best daddy in the world and I love you with all my heart. See you soon to play football in the sky. Love your little man, Harvey."

Another read: "Jay, it's Kyle, your only Bro. I miss you like mad already. I will never forget you. I love you always and forever."

Messages have been left on the social networking site Facebook, which has been set up by friends and family of Jason, who was also known as Jay.

Inge Clapham wrote: "R.I.P. to a very special person everyone loved and will always be in everyone's heart now rest in peace and god bless all you family and friends xxxxxxxxxxxx."

Mark Puncheon added on the site: "R.I.P. Jay, ur a top lad, had some great times and some great laughs with u, u will be deeply missed by everyone."

Accident

"My thoughts are with u and ur family, love ya mate xxx."

The mother of Jason's son, Emma Ivers, of Birch Avenue, was too upset to comment.

A resident of Gloucester Way, close to where the accident happened, said there had been problems in Hayes Way for a long time.

The mother of two said: "We can hear the cars driving from Tesco along Hayes Way. This was an accident waiting to happen."

Daniel Baker, 26, of Brownhills, is due to appear at Stafford Crown Court tomorrow (Friday) charged with causing the death of Mr Evans by dangerous driving.

He is also accused of causing death by careless driving while over the alcohol limit.

Children go ape over Borneo

Melissa Ricketts and Steven Groves (both aged nine) who made bookmarks and raised money to sponsor a baby orang-utan PUPILS at a Cannock school have been learning about preserving rainforests and raising money to sponsor an orangutan.

The Year 5 pupils at Bridgton Primary School have been spending lesson time learning about deforestation.

The children have signed up to The Prince's Rainforest Project set up by the Prince of Wales, and according to Year 5 teacher Amanda Beard the children are now fully fledged "eco-warriors".

She said: "They wanted to do something to help, so they've been selling bookmarks to other children at the school in break time."

The schoolchildren have used the money to sponsor an orang-utan in Borneo called Koyah.

Mrs Beard added: "The children are really excited about it and they will be receiving updates throughout the year."

"I wanted them to do something that they can see and be part of. It's the best way for them to learn."

In July this year the children will take part in a carnival where they will be on a rainforest float as part of the school's festivities.

Action call on bus service cut in villages

CANNOCK councillors are calling for Staffordshire County Council to look at restoring axed bus services.

Following reductions in county subsidy some services in the area have been withdrawn or reduced in frequency.

Heath Hayes, Norton Canes and Rawsley Community Forum members' concerns are to be sent to the county council.

Councillor Chris Collis said some of the Arriva Midlands buses to Rawsley, Hazel Slade and Cannock Wood had been withdrawn without consultation. On some days the buses are running hourly instead of half hourly.

Councillor John Bernard said that since Heartlands had taken on the service to Hazel Prospect Village, fares had increased and disabled people found it difficult to board.

Hunt for OAP to cut the ribbon

TRADERS in Hednesford are looking for the area's oldest resident to open their street party for the Royal wedding.

The town's traders group is organising the event for children on Friday, April 29.

Hednesford Traders vice-chairman Linda Whitehouse said they had decided it would be a great idea to have the oldest person in the town launch the celebrations by cutting a ribbon.

She said more and more businesses along with councillors and residents were getting involved in the big day.

Councillor Gordon Ball has given £100 and prizes, including a children's bike, are being donated by businesses.

A fun run will also feature, and there are plans for large plasma screens to relay the ceremony from London.

A Victorian market, fun fair and children's games are also being organised, and activities will run from 10am.

Anyone who would like to help on the day, or donate, or nominate the oldest resident can contact Mrs Whitehouse on 01543 899695.

Fruit and veg sale at church

GREAT Wesley Methodist Church is holding a mini market next week.

Admission to the event at the Walsall Road church is free and the mini-market will take place from 10.30am to noon on Saturday, March 26.

There will be various stalls including raffle, bric-a-brac, tombola, groceries, cakes and crafts. There will also be a fruit and vegetables stall.

Money raised will go towards phase two of the church refurbishment which has begun and includes major repairs to the hall.

On Patrol

THE Rock Dogs are playing live at the Sycamore Working Mens Club Norton Canes next Friday, March 25. Entry is free. The band plays songs recorded the likes of Kings of Leon, Snow Patrol, Oasis and Foo Fighters.

Community award cash being well spent

AN MP and a senior bank manager have visited a Cannock family centre following a £1,000 award from a community fund scheme.

The award was given to West Chadsmoor Family Centre by NatWest's Community Fund, which supports charities and good causes in communities.

The Princess Street centre provides support for parents and children, laying on activities where they can work together to give children the best start in life.

After the centre applied to the community fund, a panel of volunteers selected three worthy causes from the entrants, and then the public were invited to vote for a winner.

Heather Preece, project manager at the centre, said: "We were delighted to win. We were voted for by a lot of local members of our community so it's really good to have their support."

The cash was awarded before Christmas and Cannock Chase MP Aidan Burley and NatWest's senior bank manager, Brendan O'Reilly, were invited to the centre last week to see how the funding has been used.

Mr O'Reilly said: "I was delighted to accept the invitation from the team at the Family Centre and to see how the £1,000 award was making a real difference to the community."

The money has been used for various activities, including a Christmas party.

Encourage

The centre costs around £100,000 per year to run must raise their own funds.

"Things like this help a tremendous amount. It makes a huge difference for us," said Mrs Preece.

Mr Burley said: "It is great to see NatWest supporting local projects like the family centre in Chadsmoor."

"It would be tragedy if the centre closed, and I encourage all people who use the centre or who know people who use it, local business people and volunteers to think about ways to help fundraise to keep it open."

Party time as Chase sell-off gets the chop

A GROUP that campaigned successfully to save forest land on Cannock Chase from being sold off is holding a celebration event this weekend.

The Save Cannock Chase group which was started by Mark Davis is encouraging residents and other supporters to join in a celebration of the forest on Sunday, March 20. It is being held at the Birches Valley Visitors Centre, near Rugeley. Supporters are due to gather at the centre car park at 10am and then take a walk in the woods, with a teddy bears picnic along the way.

Mr Davis, son of local county councillor Derek Davis, said: "It will be a great way to mark the U-turn over plans to sell off forests in England."

"When the Government announced it was cancelling its plans to sell off Forestry Commission woodlands like Cannock Chase, we were just in the process of organising a protest march."

Facebook

"Given the great news, we've decided to go ahead with our event and turn it into a celebration of our beautiful forest. We're hoping lots of people will want to join us in marking our victory and in sending out a message that we will continue fighting for the good of the Chase."

The event ties in with International Forest Day on Monday, March 21.

Health invite for over-50s

OVER-50S are invited to a free open meeting of Pace 2000 next Friday, March 25.

It takes place in Room 16 of the Haling Dene Centre, Cannock Road, Penkridge at 1.15pm and will feature a presentation from Mary Jerri-son, a clinical nurse specialist at South Staffs Primary Care Trust, on the prevention of falls.

The meeting is seen as an ideal opportunity for anyone interested in joining to see what the exercise group is all about.

Full details can be found on website www.pace2000.org.uk.

Mr Davis, who also ran Facebook group What Future for Cannock Chase?, said that since the campaign began in October last year, nearly 3,000 people had joined the on-line support group.

A petition organised against the national sell-off gathered more than 7,000 signatures.

Environment Secretary Caroline Spelman has admitted the Government got it wrong, and a panel of experts is being set up to look at public access and biodiversity in relation to publicly owned woodland such as Cannock Chase.

All smiles in lambing season

Meghann Boulton (aged 19) a student at Rodbaston College near Penkridge meets two week old lambs that have been born at the centre and will be part of the college's traditional lambing weekends

THE farm at South Staffordshire College's Rodbaston campus is celebrating the spring lambing season with two ewes producing sets of twins.

Farming staff and students at the campus, near Penkridge, are providing around the clock care for the animals.

The college farm has 200 ewes due to give birth over the next three to four weeks.

Students will be gaining knowledge and expertise to help local sheep farmers through the busy lambing season.

Visitors can join in caring for the lambs at lambing weekends on March 19-20 and 26-27. Farm manager Jon Giles said the experience gained was important in the welfare and caring of the animals.

"The lambing days are a fantastic opportunity for the public to see farm animals close up."

"It is a magical experience to see so many live animals born in such a short time, and it is a very educational day."

Visitors may be able to feed some of the lambs. There are also 1,000 animals in the zoo.

Abolition of day centres 'risk to lives'

CLOSING Staffordshire day centres for people with mental health problems could put lives at risk, a health watchdog has warned.

The proposed shake-up involves axing seven day centres, including the Spring Meadow Centre, in Cannock, the Friary Day Service at the Samuel Johnson Community Hospital, in Lichfield, and the Chartley Centre in Stafford.

A six-week consultation on the scheme, affecting almost 700 people in the South Staffordshire primary care trust area, ended last week, but Councillor Muriel Davis, chairman of Cannock Chase health scrutiny committee, said the consultation period was too short.

She claimed the lack of information about alternative care services was "frightening" and that closing centres meant families received no respite from their care duties.

Health bosses say research shows that 438 of the 680 people who use the current mental health services would be better supported under the new plan, with future care provided by more appropriate health teams.

They also say that the proposals - the result of talks over the past two years - would save money.

Councillor Davis, who called a special meeting of the health scrutiny committee on Tuesday to discuss the issue, said members were extremely concerned over the proposed move.

Director

Their views echoed those of the Staffordshire health scrutiny committee, on which Councillor Davis also sits.

She said: "We can see a point to it, but the consultation for something this sensitive has been too short. All these changes are supposed to be in situ for April 1 which is not giving people time to think the proposals through."

"We don't know how these changes might upset people with mental health problems, especially depression."

John Wicks, director of commissioning at South Staffordshire PCT, said: "At the moment we are tying up resources in running buildings and by moving away from this traditional approach we will be able to offer innovative services."

Prizes and certificates will be presented at 4.15pm but can also be collected from the rangers' office later.

Champions in each category win a free pass for the country park's go-karts, crazy golf, Connect 4 and paddle boats on every Sunday in April.

Pollution worries as estate backed

PLANNERS have approved a scheme for a 450-home estate in Norton Canes despite concerns about pollution from a nearby aluminium foundry and a lack of infrastructure.

Villagers are angry that the controversial plan has been approved, and one councillor warns that the estate will create "an emergency services nightmare".

The plan was approved at a meeting of Cannock Chase planning control committee last Wednesday (March 9) with a condition that air pollution from Norton Aluminium in Norton Green Lane be monitored.

Housebuilders Persimmon Homes and Bloor Homes have won the contract to regenerate the land to the north of the M6 between Norton Hall Lane and Butts Lane.

As part of the deal, they will give £650,000 towards sport and recreation facilities in Norton Canes and Heath Hayes and £150,000 to create a 20mph zone at Church Lane and Chapel Road as well as other junction improvements.

They have also promised up to £500,000 for bus services over five years, £45,000 for travel vouchers and £19,000 for training and monitoring of the travel plan.

A further £75,000 has been made available for re-issue of vouchers and feasibility studies into a car club and a flexible bus service.

But families insist local amenities are not good enough to serve such a substantial influx of newcomers.

Villager Sheila Harding says the village has already outgrown its facilities and will not take the strain of another 1,000-plus occupants.

Full

She said: "People already have to go outside the area to see a doctor because the local GPs' lists are full. The buses are very poor and the schools are at full capacity."

"The infrastructure is not really coping with what we have at the moment, much less another estate."

Councillor John Beddows, who represents Norton, warned that the roads were too narrow to cope with the increase of traffic that will be generated, creating a "nightmare" for 999 calls.

Approval for burial site plan

A NEW £3m woodland cemetery near Rugeley has been given the go-ahead.

The site is aimed at people who want to be buried in natural countryside.

Councillors backed the bid at a planning control committee meeting last Wednesday (March 9).

They say it will help relieve the problem of lack of burial space in the Cannock Chase district and create 12 jobs.

Coffins and urns at the site, which borders the existing Stile Cop Cemetery in Stile Cop Road, would be made of wood or other biodegradable materials such as cardboard, wicker or bamboo.

The new burial park, which forms part of Chetwynd's Coppice, was originally rejected on the grounds that the site included an area of ancient woodland.

The applicants have agreed to conduct a further survey to determine the extent and quality of the ancient woodland section.

Soul band charity gig

A 14-piece soul and Motown party band will perform for charity in Cannock next weekend.

The Soul'd Out concert is on Saturday, March 26 at the Avon Business & Leisure Centre in Avon Road in aid of Dog AID.

Doors open at 7.30pm. Tickets are £5, £4 concessions available from Erica on 01543 899463, from Paul on 07773 291-444 or from the venue.

School's sign of the mines

A MINING group has presented a sign to a Cannock school which keeps people informed about the history of the site.

Cannock Chase Mining Historical Society presented the sign to Littleton Green Community School, which is on the site of Littleton Colliery.

The colliery was the last deep mine in Staffordshire and closed in 1993.

Councillor John Bernard, who represents Cannock on the county council, officially unveiled the new sign which has been sponsored by local funeral director Anthony Halliwell.

School headteacher Lynn Small said: "It is all about keeping the public aware of our heritage as this was the last one to close in Cannock."

Pupils have made a small model out of cardboard which is on display in one of the classrooms.

More than 600 mine workers lost their jobs when Littleton Colliery was shut down.

Pupils Thomas Round (aged 11) and Megan Dainty (10) unveil the sign with sponsor Anthony Halliwell

Residents in petition over phone mast

RESIDENTS have launched a petition against plans to erect a 45-foot mobile phone mast in Heath Hayes.

O2 and Vodafone want to share use of a new mast opposite the Tesco car park in Hayes Way.

Condor Grove resident Natalie Stewart said she feared the mast could damage people's health.

"We have got a petition going among local residents," she said.

"Everyone is against it because it would be next to a park used by children."

A district councillor is backing opposition to the antenna. Ward member Councillor Michael Sutherland is urging the phone giants to reconsider an alternative site away from homes.

"We don't need it or want it in this site," Councillor Sutherland said.

Councillor Diane Todd said the mast should not be put in the middle of a residential area and said people could sign the petition on Cannock Chase Council's website at www.cannockchasedc.gov.uk

"More people living nearby should have been consulted about this," she said. Councillor John Bernard urged opponents to write letters of objection to the district council. The closing date for responses is next Friday (March 25).

Councillor Chris Collis said the site chosen was "ridiculous."

"We should show the strength of opposition and demand an alternative site is found," he said.

The council's corporate director Tony McGovern said a meeting could be arranged between a planning officer and residents before the planning committee meets to discuss the application.

Antenna

Cannock Chase Council has also received applications for a 40-foot antenna with equipment at the corner of Station Road and Rugeley Road. Hednesford as well as 40-foot masts at sites next to Cannock Cemetery and Keys Park Road and a 45-foot pole with three antennae at Arvan House, Brookfield Drive.

A further application seeks to replace a mast with a 65-foot pole at Holford Equestrian Centre, Cotswold Road, Hednesford.

Team digs deep for garden work

HELPING hands made light work of a gardening project at a Cannock day centre.

People on the Prince's Trust scheme cleared the patio and car park at Chase Day Services in Longford Road, Bridgtown before setting to work on an allotment.

The eight-strong team, aged from 16 to 25, dug over the plot and weeded it ready for planting.

Team leader Kate Gibson said it was the first week of a three-month self-development course for the participants.

At the end of the course they will have gained six nationally recognised qualifications.

The team has spent this week completing an outbound course on Cannock Chase.

Global ales on tap at beer festival

BEER enthusiasts can taste a tippie from all over the world as a Cannock pub holds its annual beer festival.

Linford Arms, a Wetherspoon's pub in High Green, will have more than 50 real ales from Jamaica, Sweden, Netherlands, Australia and America.

It will run from March 25 to April 10, with all festival beers costing £1.95 a pint.

Manager Andy Newman said: "The festival promises to be great fun and I am certain that customers at The Linford Arms will enjoy themselves."

Customers will be able to taste a sample of three ales in three specially made third-of-a-pint glasses, for the price of a pint.

As well as ales from around the world, there will also be the best of British ales, including speciality beers made from ingredients such as chocolate, fruit, liquorice, honey and ginger.

There will also be beers brewed especially for the festival, and 10 ciders.

Mr Newman said: "The festival will give people the opportunity to enjoy a superb selection of UK and international beers."

"Many of the beers on offer have not been available in the pub before."

The pub will have tasting notes available throughout the duration of the festival. For more information, call 01543 469360 or visit www.jdwrealale.co.uk

Freedom bird is flying high

THE Freedom Bird has flown again
Disengaging all the nagging pain
She is free to fly the sky
And nobody needs to ask the reason why
But I will tell you if I might
Why the Freedom Bird has taken flight
Medication is tempered to give free will
And there are no sanctions, what a thrill!
Restrictions also are in gear
But there is no thought of any fear
Depression took hold like Satan's grip
Never wanting to let slip
But the light has shone I can tell
I have returned from a living hell
A broken leg or arm you can see
But does everyone agree?
The black cloud that is in our mind
Will rest there for no one to find
But the Freedom Bird is flying high
And the Eternal Flame will never die

Fuel price hope

HOPEFULLY, when Tesco opens in Rugeley, the price of fuel will drop.
For a long time we have been paying 2 or 3 pence per litre more than both the national average, and garages in other towns.
The only difference seems to be that they all have supermarkets selling fuel. On Saturday February 26, a garage on Eastern Avenue, Lichfield, was selling fuel at 4 or 5 pence per litre less, than a garage in Rugeley, selling the same brand.

Village trader's common sense talk

AT LAST... common sense in Heath Hayes
I vote Mike Smith, speaking in last week's Chronicle, as the real voice of Heath Hayes.

Who on earth could consider speed humps with all of the negative effects they have when there are so much better, and convenient ways of calming traffic. I despair every time I use the shops at Heath Hayes as our councillors up until now have wanted a 'clearway' through the village.

Give our traders a chance... take the yellow lines off at least one side of the road, better still alternate it from side to side, maybe the odd pedestrian refuge out into the centre of the road to make it easier for shoppers/pedestrians.

Most of all give motorists the chance to stop and shop conveniently. Local traders may see an upturn in trade and perhaps entice other businesses to open up on the High Street.

Give the locals what they want.....or send them to Sainsbury's. So much more could be done with just a little imagination and in many cases less cost.

MALCOLM PALMER
CANNOCK ROAD,
HEATH HAYES

Despoiling of heritage is labelled 'utter madness'

CANNOCK Chase Council apparently considers design of new developments so important that, as recently as November 2010, it prepared a set of documents that provide guidance for developers prior to them submitting a planning application.

These documents outline the character of local areas, for example, Norton Canes, Heath Hayes, Cannock Wood and so on.

Observations are made as to what makes that particular locality a unique place with a character and identity all its own. This information can be found in the Local Development Framework/Supplementary Planning Documents and within the character description for Norton Canes, as with the other districts, it gives a brief history of the village and its origins.

Under a sub-heading Key Local Design Principles or New Development Should, the report goes on to establish the parameters for future development and clearly states that new schemes in Norton Canes should: 'Retain a semi-rural 'village' scale of development whilst enhancing the green character of the area in new development', and also 'Buffer the impact of the urban edges upon the surrounding landscape character via enhanced woodland planting'. After considering the findings of Cannock Chase Council's own doubtless costly survey, how can the officer of this same council suggest approval for the huge 450 house development that is planned for the village?

The local housing strategic plan has identified sites for potentially over 1,300 new houses in Norton Canes, of which this scheme is the largest and incidentally, the only one that is on productive agricultural land.

Given the perilous state of the country, where we need to produce more of our own food, this despoiling of our heritage is utter madness and not withstanding the effect that it will have on the quality of life within the 'village', the environmental impact will be disastrous.

It was somewhat forlorn hope that someone at Cannock Chase Council might have sufficient commonsense to realise that it would be better if smaller sites were developed first, so that the impact on village services, schools, roads, medical facilities and such like could be absorbed gradually.

TOM ROBBINS
NORTON HALL LANE
NORTON CANES

Dumbfounded over speed humps plans

I REFER to the "proposed" traffic calming measures planned for Hednesford Road Heath Hayes.

I saw the first sign go up informing us of the exact plans and I then read the proposals in The Chronicle. I can only say that I am dumbfounded, amazed and extremely angry that these plans are to go ahead.

I have lived on Hednesford Road for 20 years and feel that I know this road better than most, certainly better than the amateur speed detectives who served no useful purpose at all and would have been better off campaigning for traffic calming on their own roads.

I realise that there was a referendum last year, the results of which were never published, as far as I am aware.

This does not detract from the facts however, that some little individual sitting in a council office sees fit to interfere with and disturb my existence. Surely that person can never have visited Hednesford Road, never seen parked vehicles preventing the free flow of traffic, never sat on my driveway for 10 minutes waiting to get on to the road and never checked speeding or accident records before coming to this decision.

The only time traffic can move quicker than the legal limit is first thing in the morning and late at night but again this does not actually cause problems and the presence of an occasional police vehicle would quickly put a stop to this.

Any attempts to slow down or even cause traffic to come to a halt as chicanes do, will simply make it harder to get off my driveway, cause unnecessary hold ups all the way along the road, seriously ham my privacy with vehicles parked outside my home and most importantly cause emergency vehicles to also travel slower or get held up.

Numerous ambulances pass my house every day with two tones going but this will be pointless if there is nowhere for them to get through.

I can only surmise that this proposal has not been thought through and hope that common sense will prevail and these proposals are cancelled.

I feel sure that when everyone is talking about monetary cuts the county council can find better ways to spend our money than making the lives of Hednesford Road residents a total misery.

I would appreciate other residents' views on this road but only if you live on the road will you realise that there is no actual problem. As the old saying goes: "If it ain't broke don't try to fix it."

The NIPA HUT also known as bahay kubo, is an indigenous house used in the Philippines. The native house is constructed out of bamboo tied together, with a thatched roof using nipa/anahaw leaves.

Nipa huts were the native houses of the indigenous people of the Philippines before the Spaniards arrived. They are still used today, especially in rural areas. Different architectural designs are present among the different ethno-linguistic groups in the country, although all of them conform to being stilt houses, similar to those found in neighboring countries such as Indonesia, Malaysia, and other countries of Southeast Asia.

A nipa hut is an icon of Philippine culture as it represents the Filipino value of bayanihan, which refers to a spirit of communal unity or effort to achieve a particular objective.

EATING OUT

Ghost plateful's heat was out of this world

Shaan Balti House, Cheslyn Hay

THE Shaan Balti House in Cheslyn Hay has proved hot stuff since opening less than a year ago – quite literally.

Already a winner of the Eastern Restaurant Alliance Curry Cup, my partner and I paid a visit to test the fare on offer and went home needing a cooling-off period.

The High Street restaurant is the first original balti house in Cheslyn Hay and is clearly what the villagers have been crying out for. It has built up quite a reputation during its short lifespan. It beat off stiff competition to land the Curry Cup, awarded for its food and hospitality, and it's easy to see why.

It's deceptively spacious inside, tastefully decorated and well laid out. However, such is its success, particularly at weekends when the restaurant is often full, extra seating is now being planned inside.

There was already a steady stream of visitors when we visited on a midweek night, which is not traditionally busy. Staff were welcoming and patient as we scoured the extensive menu.

The beauty of the Shaan is that as well as the traditional balti dishes, customers can try out two dishes for the price of one.

Sharon opted for butter chicken and chicken Hyderabadi, cooked with herbs and spices and yoghurt. Both were as good, if not better than what she'd tasted elsewhere and such were the helpings that a doggy bag was needed. But it still tasted good the next day.

I plumped for Achari Ghost – lamb cooked in pickled spices and fresh jalapenos and the balti naga, described as a must for the adventurous diner.

Blended with the famous balti naga chilli sauce, this was simply the hottest dish I've ever encountered.

It was polished off, of course, but the ice cream that followed was not only needed to complement the meal. As an extra special treat, the ice cream came in its very own Bollywood pot.

The Shaan Balti House, at 61-63 High Street, Cheslyn Hay, is open seven days a week from 5pm, including bank holidays.

There is a free home delivery service as well as a 10 per cent discount on collection. Call 01922 701687 or 410322.

Go Ape Cannock course manager Claire Potter

Pupils swing into ideas for tourism

GOVERNMENT plans to sell off parts of Cannock Chase were met with a storm of protest and ultimately rejected. So what better way to mark National Tourism Week than with a look at the beauty that is on our doorstep?

Named an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty (AONB) back in 1958, the Chase is the UK's smallest such designated site. Thousands of visitors are attracted to it every year, to enjoy the sights and sounds of Birches Valley and its mountain bike trails, the Visitor Centre at Marquis Drive, the German and Commonwealth cemeteries, Brocton Coppice and Milford Common.

Silver Trees holiday park remains a popular destination, while the annual music concerts have proved to be a popular draw.

Then there's Go Ape, the aerial adventure course in Birches Valley, the largest of 27 throughout the UK.

The site, which opened in May 2008, features Tarzan swings, high-rope activities and zip wires, averages just more than 20,000 customers per year.

The company's two millionth customer was celebrated at the Cannock site last year.

Course manager Claire Potter said: "GoApe is one of the fastest growing companies in the country. Go Ape is all about having fun with family and friends in the tree tops and encouraging everyone to live life a little more adventurously."

Boost

With 11 fully qualified instructors at the Cannock site, the beauty is that while up high on the treetop adventure, you can see the hundreds of other Chase visitors, taking in a leisurely stroll, walking their dogs, cycling or riding their horses.

Go Ape representatives were among the judges at a Young Enterprise Masterclass this week as students made their contribution to National Tourism Week.

Year Nine Kingsmead Technology College pupils were asked to come up with an idea to boost trade and tourism across the Chase.

The challenge was to set up a business idea that would create jobs, benefit the community and protect the AONB. Fifteen teams worked against the clock to set up a company and present their proposals with ideas including wild camping, treetop lodges, a creative art studio, dog treats in the park and a chocolate making company.

However, it was the Chase Wildlife Trail team that caught the eyes of the judges, who also included Emma Beaman, from the AONB, The Chronicle, Cannock Chase Council economic development portfolio holder Danny Davies, and Ron Lawrence, the proprietor of Colton House.

The winning team proposed a fun, educational tour of the AONB in a heritage bus with a knowledgeable guide.

Customers would see the beautiful surroundings and wildlife of Cannock Chase with stop-offs at key points.

The team members each received a voucher for a visit to Go Ape.

In second place was the Creative Art Studio team, who received Teen Extreme leisure centre passes for Rugeley Leisure Centre and Chase Leisure Centre. Their idea was a creative art studio.

Janis Wilcox, development manager for Young Enterprise, said: "In the future we hope to offer more schools the opportunities to take part in this exciting programme."

"We hope to be able to raise more pupils' awareness of the Chase AONB and how important it is to us all."

Councillor Davies said: "Tourism plays a vital role in the district's economy and the one-day business challenge really got students thinking about what's on their doorsteps and how it attracts visitors from all over the country. I was really impressed with their ideas."

For more about Young Enterprise and how to become involved, contact Janis - telephone: 07960055448 or email Janis.wilcox@yewm.org.uk

Quiz night saves day in speaker's absence

On Friday February 18, eight Chase Terrace Ladies Club members enjoyed an evening with Mike Silver and Johnny Coppin at Burntwood Town Council's Charity evening, held at St Matthews Sports and Social club.

Midlands Air Ambulance and MacMillan nurses were the charities chosen to benefit and the evening was hosted by Councillor Doug Constable. Mike Silver and Johnny Coppin are very well known on the folk music scene and we were wonderfully entertained by their fine singing and excellent songs. A basket meal of chicken and chips was included and there was a splendid raffle with a fine array of prizes. All in all it was an excellent evening.

Chase Terrace Ladies Club

The speaker for Thursday March 3 was unable to attend due to unforeseen circumstances but, Margaret and June came to the rescue and put on a quiz night.

There were five rounds of questions, including identifying famous people from photographs, general knowledge and a round named: 'What the Dickens?' The ladies split into several teams and the winners were each rewarded with a box of chocolates.

Everyone else received a chocolate bar as consolation. Thanks to Margaret and June for stepping into the breach.

Barbara and Lyn were welcomed as new members and there were two raffle prizes. Josie won a bouquet of flowers and Anne a box of After Eight mints. As there was a little extra time a short AGM was held. Dilys asked if anyone would like to join the committee or take on one of the main roles of chairman, treasurer or secretary. As there were no offers the existing committee members agreed to continue for another year. This was unanimously accepted.

The next meeting is tonight (Thursday) in the meeting room at the rear of Sankeys Corner Library at 7.30pm.

The ladies will be treated to a selection of films from the West Bromwich Camcorder Club.

Letter find is topic of June's talk

PRESIDENT Sandy Hobbs welcomed members warmly and read apologies from absent members.

While treasurer Rosemary was on holiday in Australia, her place was taken by vice-treasurer Eva Dunning, who read the financial statement. Secretary Elaine Smith read the minutes of the previous meeting.

Mrs Hobbs welcomed the speaker for the evening, who needed no introduction, as she is one of the group's own long-standing members, June Pickering, who had chosen to talk about the finding of nine letters, written by John Pickering, who emigrated to Australia, from Cannock, in 1849.

John was a great uncle of June's late husband and the letters were discovered when an elderly aunt died. John's experiences were truly inspiring and were graphically described in his letters. June illustrated her talk with slides demonstrating what conditions on the voyage must have been like in those days. June has since visited South Australia and attended a gathering of the Pickering clan and she corresponds with many as she has continued her research into the family history.

Mary Russell gave the vote of thanks for the most interesting talk. The competition was won by Elaine, Diane and Irene.

A bring and buy sale was held during the tea break, after which Mr Hobbs gave details of forthcoming events, both county and local. The Heathside group meeting will be held at Cannock on March 31 at 7.30pm.

The group's own activities for the coming months include visits to Birmingham National Trust 'Back to Back' houses, Bridgemere Garden Centre and Ascot Ladies' Day at Moor Hall.

The raffle was won by Sandy. Mrs. Hobbs wished everyone a safe journey home and closed the meeting.

The group meets on the first Wednesday of each month at St. John's Church Hall, Heath Hayes, at 7.30pm. and visitors are always given a very warm welcome.

More than 70 attend dinner

CANNOCK SOROPTIMISTS

The 56th annual dinner of SI Cannock & District took place on February 18 at the Terrace Restaurant, Brownhills.

President Ronnie Reynolds welcomed more than 70 members and their guests from the Midland Chase region and beyond.

Maurice Cryer, Assistant Governor of Rotary District 1210 proposed the toast to Soroptimist International. He praised the organisation for the outstanding work they do throughout the world.

The response was given by Region President Pat Cross, a member of SI Bilston, Cannock's mother club. She made particular reference to the support that SI Cannock gives to projects in Africa run by two of their own club members: Action Kenya and crèches in the Cape Town townships.

Entertainment was provided by Black Country wordsmith David Bartley before President Ronnie thanked the restaurant for all they had done and the team that had organised the dinner.

New member Janice welcomed

CHAIRMAN Val Beale welcomed everyone to the March meeting with a special welcome to guests Margaret Harper, Mary Barratt and new member Janice Shaw.

Kay Matthews introduced Janice to the club members. New membership lists were distributed.

Members were reminded of future events including the games day on March 21 and an afternoon tea and quiz at Old Wyrley Hall on Wednesday March 23.

The entertainment, a slide show of beautiful and amazing pictures, was provided by Ron Darby and Phil Mills. The April meeting of the club will be the annual celebration lunch when family and friends are welcome.

The club meets for lunch at the Chase Golf Club on the first Thursday of the month.

Fresh incinerator plan is submitted

L to r: Pupils James Bevan (aged six), Ben Boden (10) and Adam Stanley (nine)

A BLESSING was carried out following an Ash Wednesday mass at a Chasetown school for a old church cross that has been resited there.

The cross from the old St Joseph's Church in New Street was restored with help from local businesses. It was blessed last Wednesday (March 9) by parish priest Father Patrick Mileham at St Joseph and St Theresa Primary School.

The cross, dating back to the 19th Century, was saved when the church was demolished to make way for a new building.

Mothers Kate Bevan and Lisa Gartshorne wanted to keep the history of the old church alive and came up with the idea of saving the cross.

THE developer behind plans for a waste-fired power plant in Cannock has submitted fresh proposals.

Objectors to the controversial Biffa Waste Plant scheme have been warned the slate has been wiped clean and that they were told they must begin a new campaign against the plans.

The scheme, at the Kingswood Lakeside industrial park, forms part of a £200m waste management scheme involving the adjoining Poplars landfill site. Councillor John Bernard told a Heath Hayes, Norton Canes and Rawsley Community Forum meeting last week that the initial application had been rejected.

"All the petitions and objections lodged against that are now null and void," he said. "We will have to set up a new petition and start all over again."

Forum chairman Councillor John Biddows, who represents Norton Canes on the district council, said there was still "total objection" to the scheme.

Councillor Chris Collis called for a cross-political campaign against the incinerator. He feared waste would be brought to Cannock from other parts of the country.

Councillor Pat Ansell agreed and warned: "We don't want to become known as the dumping ground of the country."

But Councillor Michael Sutherland said the investment would generate cheap electricity which would help to attract new industry.

He said there was a demand from the food industry for a site like Kingswood Lakeside to process food waste.

Norton Canes parish council strongly opposes the incinerator and has called for councils to work together to reject it.

The plant would burn up to 400,000 tonnes of non-hazardous waste a year and generate 34 megawatts of electricity – enough to power 8,000 homes.

Specials on the increase

THE number of special constables in Cannock Chase district is to be increased by a third.

Insp Pat Shannaghann said there were currently 30 specials based in the district, but added there were plans to recruit another 10.

A re-organisation of policing divisions in the county takes effect in April. Insp Shannaghann, commander of the existing Cannock neighbourhood policing unit, is moving to lead the new team looking after the South Staffordshire district. Ch Insp Carl Ratcliffe will head the new Cannock Chase team.

Help at hand for the unemployed

A NEW fortnightly Work Club has been launched for unemployed people in Burntwood.

Air issues with police

POLICE are holding community surgeries in Norton Canes to discuss concerns with villagers. Meetings take place at Norton Canes Library in Burntwood Road from 2pm on March 21 and April 11.

Surgeries will also be held on Saturday, April 30 at the Police Post at the rear of the Co-op store in Burntwood Road and on May 20 at the Co-op, both at 2pm.

The three-hour sessions are held at Burntwood Library, at Sankeys Corner, on Tuesdays from 9am to noon. The next one is on March 29.

They are aimed at job-seekers of all ages.

Experts from Lichfield District Council, Bromford Living, South Staffordshire College, Staffordshire Young People's Service and Juniper Training offer advice on training courses and volunteering as well as interview techniques and refreshing CVs.

Burntwood Work Club has been developed and led by Bromford Living and Lichfield District Council.

Poet is on the write lines

RESIDENTS at a retirement home in Bridgton have been battling it out to decide who is the best poet.

Ethel Price, aged 82, who lives at Vine Court, in Earlswood Way, beat off stiff competition from fellow residents with her poem titled My Sixty Fifth Birthday.

Val Thompson of The Lichfield Poets visited the home to decide who the winner should be.

Hopes of 2013 finish date for £50m scheme

THE Chase Gateway scheme to regenerate Hednesford could be completed by the early part of 2013.

A Community Forum meeting last week heard the next step in the £50m scheme will be when Tesco confirms it will build an 85,000sq ft store on stilts at the heart of the redevelopment.

Cannock Chase Council's economic development manager Glenn Watson said both phases of the regeneration now had planning permission in place.

The first work on phase one will see the building of a replacement bingo hall off Rugeley Road and a new drill hall for the Army Cadet Force at the end of Hednesford Park. There will also be improvement work to the car park off Rugeley Road.

Demolition contractors will knock down the Aquarius Ballroom in Victoria Street before work starts on improvements to the junction of King Street and Market Street.

Confirmation

Mr Watson said everything was still subject to final confirmation, but work on the store could get under way once the re-alignment of Victoria Road was completed.

"We expect that the whole of the development will be completed by early 2013," he added.

Tidy-up bid launched at derelict canal site

AMBITIOUS plans to transform an historic canal site which has been blighted by drug users and vandals are to go out to public consultation.

The Waterways Action Team Rugeley has just learned it has failed in its bid for a £48,000 lottery grant to overhaul the famous Bloody Steps site near Brindley Bank.

Members are still forging ahead in their bid to clean up the site, where the body of Christina Collins was discovered in 1939. Recently the area has become rundown.

The site, near the Rugeley aqueduct, has become overgrown and strewn with drugs paraphernalia and graffiti. The group hopes to regenerate the site as a tourist spot. Last weekend a party of 25 volunteers cleared vegetation, carried out painting work and bank erosion prevention and picked up litter between Brindley Bank and Mossley Tavern.

Volunteers included members of Rugeley Lions, the council's community payback team and local community police support officers.

The Inland Waterways Association's Lichfield branch manager Margaret Beardsmore, of Rishworth Avenue, Rugeley, said the action group needed residents' support to help secure the cash.

She said: "The weekend was very successful which helped to lessen the disappointment of not succeeding in raising funds from the Lottery Grant."

"Unfortunately, so many groups had applied for money from the final tranche of Lottery Funding that they had to turn down otherwise acceptable bids."

The area has now been surveyed and plans drawn up which will help future funding bids, she said.

The Inland Waterways Association is planning a public consultation to discuss the improvements.

Floating

Work would include a new footpath and a revamp of steps and a handrail with the base of the steps cleaned up and landscaped.

Christina Collins was murdered by drunken boatmen after boarding a freight-laden boat in Liverpool to join her husband in London. Her bloodied body was found floating in the water at Brindley Bank and dragged up the steps.

Shoppers get red carpet treatment

Bill Collis and Angela Jones prepare to roll out the mile long red carpet for Comic Relief FUNDRAISERS in Chasetown are being given the red carpet treatment tomorrow (Friday).

Staff at furnisher William Collis & Sons in High Street, Burntwood, will be laying a mile of red carpet between No 7 nightclub to Chasetown FC's ground in Church Street as part of Red Nose Day.

Inspirational blind marathon runner Dave Heeley, from West Bromwich, will join Chasetown boss Charlie Blakemore and former Premiership referee Alan Wiley in walking the length of the carpet. Fundraisers will rattle collection buckets along the route and people will be able to sign their names on footprints on the carpet for a donation.

On their bikes for a charity ride from London to Paris are Stacie Purse, left (aged 28) and Lucy Scanlon (30)

Saddling up for cycle challenge

TWO friends have just five months to get fit for a challenging cycle ride from London to Paris.

Wolverhampton University students Lucy Scanlon, aged 30, and Stacie Purse, 28, were inspired to raise money for the anti-poverty campaigning group World Development Movement.

The UK charity has a worldwide reputation for tackling hard-hitting issues such as debt relief and blocking water privatisation schemes.

Their social policy students will each raise at least £1,300 in sponsorship to take part in the four-day event in August.

Rigorous

The couple have devised a rigorous training programme which includes rock-climbing, swimming and cycling. Lucy, of Handsacre, said: "The training has been a bit of a shocker even though we're taking it slowly at first."

Stacie, a mother-of-one from Market Street, Hednesford, said: "I used to do a lot of walking so I'm quite looking forward to getting fit again."

Facebook fans can help writer achieve dream

A PENKRIDGE writer is looking for Facebook fans to help him achieve his £1million dream.

Nick Galanides, Deputy Creative Director for an advertising agency, has completed his own feature film and is looking for funding to get it on the big screen.

He currently writes TV and radio ads and has worked with big names like Roger Moore, Ruby Wax and James Nesbitt.

Mr Galanides has given copies of his film to actors and actresses he works with, and has got some positive feedback.

A Hollywood director is also looking at his scripts. Mr Galanides, aged 48, said: "Doing the job that I do, I know how tough it is so I'm pretty thick-skinned and not afraid of rejection."

Nick Galanides

He is now encouraging people to 'Like' his Facebook page to help attract the attention of an investor.

The page has been viewed more than 20,000 times in four weeks. Mr Galanides spent all last year writing the scripts and was also inspired by fellow former Walton High School, Stafford, pupil Andrew Lockley, who won an Oscar for visual effects in Inception.

His feature film, Handsome Unhinged, is accompanied by a short film, Slapper, and a very short film, Harold, to make up The Handsome Trilogy.

The films, described as realistic thrillers, are based on a true story set in Staffordshire.

Mr Galanides estimates his feature film will cost £1m to make, with the shorter film costing £10,000. Visit facebook.com/galanides

Culs-de-sac a risk to life, county told

A COUNCILLOR is pleading for the removal of a grassed area which splits a Hednesford road into two culs-de-sac because it endangers lives.

Councillor Doris Grice told Hednesford Community Forum that neither ambulances nor fire engines could be driven down either half of Brindley Crescent, and called for Staffordshire County Council to restore the through road.

But the council's general manager for community highway liaison, Wayne Mortiboys, told her that he had had a look at Brindley Crescent and it would cost hundreds of thousands of pounds to restore the road.

There was no foundation for it now and new drainage would be needed.

Mr Mortiboys accepted that parking and turning vehicles round were difficult, but said the closure had been done with full consultation and the grass area had been there for 15 years.

The county council could look at improved signage and re-naming one half of the road, but said there were "no road safety benefits" from what Councillor Grice was suggesting.

"The grass has made it safer in the street for children to play. Re-opening it would create dangers," he added.

Lorries

Councillor Grice claimed that barriers on the grassed area caused problems for parents pushing prams and for invalid scooter drivers.

Chairman Councillor George Adamson suggested that county council officers should go on a site visit with Councillor Grice.

Councillor Grice added: "There have been lorries hitting walls and lamp posts knocked down in Brindley Crescent."

"It is difficult for fire engines as well because of cars parked along there. It is extremely dangerous."

Jacquie and Simon Stokes, from Stars Academy, with parents Deanne Rose, from Hednesford, as Robin and Trudy Mason, from Rugeley, as Thievin who all helped to raise £1,230 for Comic Relief with the pantomime Robin Hood and his Menly Men

Panto's menly for Comic Relief day

A HUSBAND and wife team who run a Staffordshire performing arts school have raised money for Comic Relief by roping in students' parents for a fundraising pantomime.

Simon and Jacqui Stokes, from Hednesford, run the Stars Academy in both Rugeley and Hednesford. The couple recently asked parents to join the cast of Robin Hood and his Menly Men – a pantomime held over two nights.

The show at the Rugeley Rose Theatre in Taylor's Lane raised £1,234 for Comic Relief.

Mr Stokes said: "We received support from local businesses, who donated prizes to our raffle. This of course made a huge difference to the total." Rugeley Town Council and the theatre let Stars Academy have the venue for free, which saved up to £400.

Bus firm off the road after passenger hurt

A BUS FIRM based in Great Wyrley has been banned from the road after a wheel came off one of its vehicles in Wolverhampton, leaving a passenger injured.

White Wings Travel and director Graham Martin must be "kept out of the passenger transport industry" indefinitely, a public inquiry heard.

Vehicle inspector Austin Jones told West Midlands deputy traffic commissioner Lester Maddrell that a rear wheel came off a White Wings minibus in Stafford Street in October last year.

One of the 10 passengers needed hospital treatment for a back injury.

The bus was impounded by police and Mr Jones found wheelnuts had been loose for a "considerable" time, he told the hearing in Edgbaston.

He then inspected other vehicles in the company's fleet at its depot in Jacob's Hall Lane, and found a broken "door open" warning light, broken indicators, bald tyres and an oil leak.

Mr Jones said five of the firm's six vehicles failed MoT inspections. The same buses had previously been run by Warstones Motors, trading as The Green Bus Service.

Mr Martin was director of The Green Bus Service, which was ordered off the roads in 2009 over a string of failures. Its licence was suspended over issues including MoT failures, expired tax discs, loose wheelnuts, leaking fuel gauges and a bald tyre.

Mr Martin was also banned from being a director but Mr Maddrell ruled he had continued in that role for White Wings Travel and revoked the firm's operating licence.

Mr Martin, who did not attend last Friday's hearing (March 4), had written to the commissioner advising him White Wings ceased trading on February 18.

Stepping in right direction

A CANNOCK nursery is celebrating its latest Ofsted report.

Inspectors judged Stepping Stones Day Nursery, in Heath Hayes to be strong in all areas.

They said the youngsters were making good progress in their learning and development because they enjoyed their time in the nursery and because staff recognised their interests and individuality.

They also noted that new management was striving continually to make improvements.

The nursery, which meets at Heath Hayes community centre in Heath Way, currently has 32 children, providing a "welcoming and child-friendly environment".

Manager Emma Neenan said the six-strong teaching team was "very proud".

She added: "The staff have worked so hard."

Link up with Family Link and make a difference

As Ann and Bill's own children started to become more independent, they started to feel that they had more to give.

So, when their son got married and their daughter flew the nest to University, they went to www.care4child.org and then picked up the phone to Staffordshire County Council.

"We joined the Family Link Team in November 2009 after we were told that more carers were desperately needed to give weekend breaks to children with learning or physical disabilities," said Ann.

"We're just an ordinary family with a weekend a month spare. We love giving the children, and their parents, a break. It gives them a chance to recharge their batteries, meet new people, try new things and be that little bit more independent.

"For us, it's so rewarding to give the children the opportunity to relax and enjoy themselves. We really feel we're making a difference. Each carer is trained and supported by the county council's 'Outstanding' fostering service.

"We didn't have any particular experience of looking after children with learning or physical disabilities. The assessment was fine though and we felt fully supported all the way through the training process," said Bill.

"Helen, our link worker, is always at the end of the phone to help us whenever we need support or advice. There's also a support group of other carers that go to if we want to, if we feel we need more support."

Ann and Bill had a child placed with them soon after being assessed, and a looking after Steven, who has learning difficulties.

"We don't do anything out of the ordinary," said Bill. "We walk the dog, go to the shops, go out to eat or just sit at home and play games. We try to make the weekend around what Steven wants, but also around what experiences we can give him.

"Watching his confidence grow and him relax in our company, is just priceless."

"He especially enjoys playing with his daughter on the games console when he comes home from Uni. He has even chosen his own goldfish to go in the garden pond. He has a really special love for our dog."

"It's just like Steven is a member of our family and it feels like he has always been with us." Ann and Bill are called on by anyone with time to care to touch with Staffordshire County Council's fostering service to see if it's something they would like to do.

"We'd encourage anyone who has time to spare to get involved in fostering, but is perhaps worried about it with a full time job, to speak to the Family Link Team.

"You'll be giving a child and their family such desperately needed support and a chance to enjoy a weekend just like them.

"At the same time you will be supported by your very own link worker and given free training if you feel you need it. We also get a small allowance for the help out."

"Go on give it a try you never know you may love it just like we do."

If you would like to support a child through Family Link, get in touch with us on 0800 169 2061 or come and see us on our roadshow on the following dates at:

Competition gold as Andy powers home

A PENRIDGE teenager outmuscled the opposition to collect a strongman gong.

Powerlifter Andy Spiers took home first place, representing the West Midlands in the under-20 section at the Great British Federation junior championship.

More than 50 people entered having qualified through a stern test of squats, bench presses and dead lifts.

Andy, aged 19, from Otherton, competed in the 93kg weight class and achieved some personal best lifts at 260kg in squats and 160kg bench press while he also set a new British record for a dead lift of 285kg.

Andy, a former Wolgarston High School pupil, trains four times a week and is studying paramedic science at Staffordshire University. He wants to be a paramedic when he qualifies.

He said of powerlifting: "It's a great sport, disciplined training, very strict lifts, and it really improves health and fitness."

Andy has been competing in powerlifting for three years.

Seal of approval for leading window firm

DESPITE the shrinking economy, one local company has grown to become one of the leading manufacturers of uPVC windows, doors and conservatories in the West Midlands.

Energy seal, based in Planetary Road, Wednesfield, has a 20-strong workforce, all of whom strive to be the very best in the industry in all areas.

This dedication to quality begins with excellent manufacturing of their window system, through to excellent customer service.

Family-run

The company is a family-run business with two brothers, David and Richard Carter, at the helm. Director of sales, David, says: "We aim to give our customers the very best service the industry can offer."

"Through being involved directly with sales, we can develop a special relationship with customers the second their phone rings."

"Then, when our customers become confident they are buying their windows, doors or conservatories off the right company, we then get the project underway."

"Starting with a free technical survey of the work being carried out, we then project-manage everything from that point on."

"In our conservatories range we have many different options for our customers."

"We provide the finished article, starting with the base, brickwork, erecting the uPVC frames and roof, right down to fitting electrics, tiling the floor and fitting vertical blinds."

"In our showroom, we have six full-sized conservatories fully-fitted with fixtures and fittings to show our customers exactly what they're buying."

"Energyseal is also looking to create more jobs in the local area."

Richard, trade director, adds: "When we started manufacturing, we had three employees. Three years on we now employ 10 fabricators, two fitting teams and six office staff."

"We are always looking to expand our business so we can create new jobs for local people. Because we offer such an excellent service, most of our work comes from recommendations so this gives us the opportunity to grow. We also supply to the trade industry."

"If you are interested in buying any of our extensive range of windows, doors or conservatories, call us on 01902 866000 and one of our friendly advisers will be happy to help with your enquiry."

"Alternatively, pop into our showroom for a free no obligation quote."

Parish fights on in bid to stop the travellers

PARISH councillors have vowed to fight on in their bid to stop travellers from setting up a camp near their homes – despite a legal setback.

The itinerants last week won permission to build a 20-caravan camp on land off the A449, Wolverhampton Road, Penkridge. Four families will live at the site.

But, in a letter to South Staffs District Council, Penkridge parish council has voiced concerns about the plan. The village authority questioned how it can ensure that the original residents do not change or increase over time.

They also query whether there are appropriate regulations for the distance between homes and whether there are adequate fire control measures in place.

The travellers' planning victory was the eighth for a camp on Green Belt land in the district in the past three years.

The group, led by applicant William Lee, won permission for seven pitches, including the erection of two amenity blocks and the laying of hardstanding and access improvements on the A449. It will last until the end of December 2014.

The bid was initially rejected in January after a High Court injunction had been served to prevent more caravans joining 10 that moved illegally on to the site a year earlier. But the family appealed the decision, triggering a three-day public inquiry.

The Secretary of State Eric Pickles intervened in the appeal due to its size and location on Green Belt land but the travellers finally won the day and permission was granted 12 days ago.

In planning inspector Susan Heywood's report, she noted: "William and Joanne Lee and their dependent children have previously tried living in a house, but found this very stressful."

However Penkridge parish chairman Councillor Pet Hughes said the council was not happy with the decision. "We will fight on," she said.

Awareness day set to raise Fairtrade profile

FAIRTRADE supporters are hosting an awareness day in Heath Hayes to raise the profile of struggling farmers around the world.

The '12 baskets event' will take place at St John's Church, Hednesford Road, on Saturday, March 26, from 10am until 4pm.

Organisers are hoping the free activity day will effectively explore the issues surrounding farming and food production both here and abroad while aiming to help transform trading structures and practices in favour of the poor and disadvantaged.

George Green, one of the event organisers, said: "Me and my wife have visited Africa and seen first-hand the problems poor farmers have over there. This event is to help us let people know that there are ways in which they can help people in Africa as well as in England, as many don't realise that there are also problems closer to home.

"We have tried to involve lots of different people from across the community and the church has been most supportive in helping us host this event."

"The knowledge of the different organisations will add some expertise to the day and really help us inform others and raise awareness."

There will be several stalls set up to provide information to visitors.

Special guests will include representatives from Staffordshire Wildlife, The Fairtrade Foundation, Compassion in World Farming and the Cannock Chase countryside Rangers, who will all be on hand to answer questions and provide displays and activities for children and adults.

George and Sheila Green, promote the 12 Baskets event taking part at St John's Church, Heath Hayes

DOUBLE DOSE OF COMIC FUN

TWO COMEDIANS are following up appearances on Michael McIntyre's Comedy Roadshow by joining forces for a nationwide tour.

Mike Gunn and Sean Collins are sharing the same bill for their Still on the Roadshow tour, which reaches the Cannock Prince of Wales Theatre on Saturday May 7.

Gunn was recently labelled as one of the top 10 stand-up comedians in the country and began his career supporting Jo Brand and Alan Davies.

He has performed internationally, taking his show to Hong Kong, Ireland, Holland, Germany, Switzerland and to Australia at the Melbourne International Comedy Festival, where he completed a five-week sell-out season.

He also had the dubious honour of being the first comic to ever play in Kuantan, East Malaysia and recently entertained the troops in the Falkland Islands.

Festival

One performance at the Edinburgh Festival saw Gunn adopt the character of a funeral director in his show Good Grief for which he received rave reviews.

His follow up show at the festival was Uncut, which took a comedic look at drug addiction and recovery.

Television appearances include Harry Hill's TV Burp, Al Murray's sitcom Time Gentlemen Please and The Comedy Store.

Canadian comic Sean Collins has honed his storytelling style over 18 years of performing.

In 2000 he received two Canadian Comedy Award nominations for Best Male Stand Up and for his half hour Comic's Comedy Special.

Fuelled by the desire to play to an international audience, Collins left Canada for the UK and within the five years that he has resided in Britain, has written and performed three successful Edinburgh Festival shows.

He has several TV and radio credits to his name, including The World Stands Up on Comedy Central and The Comedy Store.

A spokesman for the Cannock Prince of Wales Centre said: "Mike and Sean are at the top of their game and prove that good comedy is not just a young man's game."

"Having funny bones is something you're born with – and these two don't need calcium supplements."

Tickets for Still on the Roadshow are £15 and can be booked by calling the box office on 01543 578762.

Veteran comic and writer at Garrick

VETERAN writer and comedian Barry Cryer returns to the Lichfield Garrick next week with his brand new show.

Cryer, a regular on popular radio show I'm Sorry I Haven't a Clue since 1972, has written for some of the country's top comedians including Rory Bremner and Morecambe and Wise.

His latest show, Butterfly Brain, is an alphabetical, hypothetical journey from A to Z in an odyssey of oddities. Butterfly Brain is also the title of the third volume of Cryer's autobiography, which was released in 2009.

Tickets for the show are £16.50 and can be booked by calling 01543 412121.

The show takes place next Friday (March 25) from 7.30pm.

POPULAR musical Godspell is coming to Rugeley as part of a new theatre company's latest tour.

MY Theatre and Film Company formed one year ago and have already performed at venues include the Stoke Rep Theatre. They're touring the Midlands in mid-April with Godspell, a musical which is celebrating its 40th anniversary. Set in the 1960s hippie period, the musical is based on the Gospel according to St Matthew. Its structure is like that of a series of parables. The parables are interspersed with modern hits and traditional hymns in what promises to be a colourful show.

It takes place at the Rose Theatre, on Taylors Lane, on Thursday April 14. Tickets are £5. Book at the box office on 01889 584036.

Guitarist set to be star turn

AUSTRALIAN guitarist Craig Ogden will be the star turn when a celebrated orchestra comes to Lichfield.

The Midlands-based Orchestra da Camera formed in 1957 and is one of the UK's most senior chamber orchestras.

The group gave its inaugural concert at Birmingham City Art Gallery and has since toured all over the country and also in Europe.

Many distinguished soloists and conductors have worked with the orchestra, including Bryn Terfel, Dame Felicity Lott, Nigel Kennedy, Julian Lloyd-Webber and Nicholas Cleobury.

Craig Ogden reached number one in the Classic FM chart this year with his CD, The Guitarist.

The programme for the Garrick concert will include Mendelssohn's Overture Son and Stranger, Faure's Pavane, Rodrigo's Concierto de Aranjuez, Elgar's Sereade for Strings and Mozart's Symphony no 40 in G minor.

Tickets for the next Wednesday's show (March 23) are £16.

They can be booked on 01543 412121 or at www.lichfieldgarrick.com

Back to Back entertainment

THREE old school variety entertainers will be rolling back the years next week when they host a show in Lichfield.

Don Maclean, Malcolm Stent and Dave Sealey star in Back to Back, a show full of sketches, gags and songs, in the style of Morecambe and Wise and The Two Ronnies. Written by Maclean and Stent, Back to Back is said to be entertainment for grown-ups who like their comedy clean.

The most famous of the trio is undoubtedly former Crackerjack presenter Maclean.

The Birmingham-born actor and comedian has also appeared on Crossroads, The Black and White Minstrel Show, Carry on Columbus and Good Morning Sunday, a religious programme on BBC Radio 2.

He was awarded an MBE in the 2001 New Year's Honours list for services to ecumenism and inter faith dialogue.

Stent, also from Birmingham, is an actor, performer and playwright who has become a regular on the Midlands stage circuit.

Sealey became famous for the comedy double-act Cosmothea, performed with his brother Al in the 1970s.

Tickets for Back to Back are £18. The show will be at the Lichfield Garrick next Thursday (March 24) from 7.30pm.

Call 01543 412121 or visit www.lichfieldgarrick.com to book.

Singer Brolly makes return

IRISH singer Bob Brolly makes a welcome return to Cannock later this year.

Brolly's latest album, Endless Magic, was released in 2010 and earned favourable reviews.

Recorded at his brand new state-of-the-art digital Studio, Endless Magic was said to provide a combination of delightful country music, melodious vocals and heartfelt lyrics all in the distinctive Brolly style.

Brolly currently works on BBC Radio Coventry & Warwickshire with his afternoon show.

Tickets for Bob Brolly are £10 and can be booked by calling the box office on 01543 578762.

Reviews

George's Marvellous Medicine.

New Alexandra Theatre, Birmingham.

CHILDREN'S author Roald Dahl died 20 years ago but his work has never been more popular.

George's Marvellous Medicine is one of his slighter works but David Wood's adaptation is still full of the gleeful mischievous naughtiness that children love in Dahl's tales.

When farmer's son George's half-term holiday dedicated to reading his favourite books is ruined by the arrival of his ghastly gin-soaked battle-axe of a grandmother, he decides to take revenge by replacing her medicine with his own concoction.

Soon George is happily spooning a combination of toilet cleaner, horse tonic, shampoo and a dozen other equally unsavoury ingredients, into his demanding grandma's "mouth puckered like a dog's bottom".

The results are not what he expects, grandmother grows to giant proportions, and so do the farm animals when George's over enthusiastic farmer father decides to feed the marvellous medicine to the livestock too. Hence lots of being chased by an oversized chicken and a dramatic appearance by a gigantic bull.

The young audience, including school groups, at Birmingham on Tuesday was delighted to be complicit with George as he mixed up the "medicine".

This is a production designed to delight the under 10s with its frenetic action, animal puppets, repetition and audience participation. Though a nod to the nanny state comes with the post-show voice over advising the youngsters not to create their own medicines.

The cast of five put in plenty of effort, particularly Iain Ridley as an adult playing the child George, Benedict Martin as his hyperactive dad (who also manages to work in impressions of the Queen and the Pope) and Deborah Vale as the formidable grandmother, who also throws down a few cool dance moves when George imagines the perfect grandma.

The play continues to Saturday.

High School Musical, The Grand Theatre, Wolverhampton

ANOTHER triumph for The Wolverhampton Musical Comedy Company with their latest production, High School Musical.

There was an abundance of talent from the young cast in this exciting and energetic performance that meets the usual high standards from this company. Denise Robinson's direction produced a fast moving pace with precise dance routines and awesome big musical numbers.

Tye Harris and Holly Stringfellow gave excellent performances as the two main leads and Kimberley Robinson and Pip Harper complemented them wonderfully.

Veronica Bould gave an outstanding performance and Stuart Sneade, Claudia Gilmore, Matthew Colley, Tom Winfield, Jade Reddall, Dexter Whitehead and Lucy Pollard all gave uplifting support.

Mention must go to the first class orchestra together with a strong production team.

Les Jowett

Footloose, Hippodrome, Birmingham

FOOTLOOSE exploded on to the stage with all the energy and excitement an 80s dance musical should have. Based on the 1984 film, the production told the story of city boy Ren who moved to small town Bomont only to find that dancing was banned, and he wanted to bring it back.

The all singing, all dancing production, directed and choreographed by Olivier award-winner Karen Bruce, had everything from light-hearted humour to heart-ache and sadness which drew in the audience.

The show's big name, Matt Willis, from pop group Busted, as Chuck, fitted the role effortlessly, proving he is not just a pop star.

It featured classic 80s hits, including the title track Footloose, and a show-stopping performance of Let's Hear It For The Boys from Jodie Jacobs as Rusty.

The energy of the cast lasted from start to finish, and the show ended with a compilation of the biggest dance numbers which encouraged to whole audience to get on their feet.

Alex Wainwright

Joe Longthorne, New Alex Theatre, Birmingham

WEAVING his magic with a sensational class act, Joe Longthorne had his adoring fans in raptures.

A huge cheer greeted him onto the stage as the audience stood up to show their love for him. Clearly moved by the welcome, it was warming to see the emotion on his face, all the more poignant after his fight against leukaemia.

The TV show Search for a Star put him in the spotlight and made him a household name, not only as an accomplished singer in his own right, but also a great singing impersonator and comedian.

Let Me Try Again was a perfect opening song that pulled at the heart strings and created the atmosphere for the rest of his performance.

His endless repertoire of voices includes hundreds of the world's top singers. Frank Sinatra, Shirley Bassey, Johnny Mathis, Neil Diamond, Barry Manilow and Tom Jones were just a few delivered with uncanny accuracy.

There were tears of laughter for his hilarious impressions of David Dickinson and his Dickinson's Real Deal colleagues. Finishing with a moving rendition of Wind Beneath My Wings, the entire audience were on their feet and many taking flowers and gifts to the front for him to receive.

Les Jowett

The Wombats, HMV Institute, Birmingham

IT certainly did not backfire at the disco for The Wombats. The decision to start the night with a new song might not have been the best one, but following up this shaky start with Kill the Director soon got the crowds jumping.

The Liverpool lads gave an enthusiastic performance of old classics and songs from their long-awaited forthcoming album, This Modern Glitch, and it was clear how much their fans loved every moment as their waves of screams engulfed the room.

They ended the gig with a crowd-pleasing encore of their new single Anti-D and a performance of their first single Let's Dance To Joy Division, which had the whole venue singing along.

Alex Wainwright

Richard Herring, Wulfrun Hall, Wolverhampton

CONTROVERSIAL comedian Richard Herring played out his well-thought and deeply funny one-man show to a near-full house. Following up his hit show Hilary Mantel with his next sideways offering Christ on a Bike - The Second Coming, Herring hit the spot with his own brand of clever and witty comedy.

The show, which is more like a monologue, explores the thoughts of Herring as he struggles to understand the Bible from his atheist view, and the meaning of a dream which involved a bicycle race with Jesus.

The 43-year-old, most famous for his part in double-act Lee and Herring, is effortlessly funny as he strips Christianity to the bare bones in a show that is squarely aimed at the open minded.

He split his time on stage into two 45-minute slots, using the first to explain what gave him the idea behind the show, and the second to dissect the plot of his dream as well as the Bible.

His pièce de résistance is something recycled from the original show, toured a full 10 years earlier, where he displays his intelligence and comedic ability by reciting the entire genealogy of Jesus, and still making it funny.

The likeable comedian supplied every seat in the house with a free programme packed full of witticisms and stories, which he promised to sign after the show, encouraged his audience to donate to children's charity SCOPE, which he has supported since 2003.

Jon Pritchard

Angelos Epithemiou & Friends, Wulfrun Hall, Wolverhampton

THE friends didn't show, and that's just as well judging by the photos Angelos showed of them on a big screen, particularly the one who hasn't blinked for three years.

Anorak wearing, plastic bag carrying Angelos Neil Epithemiou is a social misfit character created by Dan Renton Skinner, a creation who has found fame as a panellist and, more recently, score keeper on Vic Reeves and Bob Mortimer's spoof TV quiz show Shooting Stars.

You probably wouldn't choose to sit next to Angelos on a bus but put him on a stage and you have nearly two hours of bumbling, mumbling fun, not bad for an act who boasts "three jokes and a dance".

He has problems with any word with more than three syllables - including Wolverhampton - and uses exclamations more suitable for a teenage girl, OMG!

We did also get a glimpse of DJ Epithemiou, clad in Adidas and blasting out techno, though he took the pace down for his favourite song to play at funerals, If You Don't Know Me By Now.

The former burger van owner introduced us to his dog, Tinned Tomatoes, and expressed himself through the medium of dance. The anorak and 4ft-long tie were shed in favour of a silver Lycra leotard for Mud's Cat Crept In and again, with the addition of a bushy tail, for Sweet's Fox On The Run. He left us with his words of wisdom "don't muck about" which, thankfully, is a maxim he completely ignores.

£250,000 for an improved and extended home

THIS considerably improved and extended detached house, located in a sought after residential area, is on the market for £250,000.

Available through estate agent Boot & Son, Brook House can be found at 72 Dartmouth Avenue, Cannock.

A block paved driveway, with ample parking for several vehicles, leads to the front door. A large reception hall leads to the cloakroom and a nicely proportioned lounge.

A separate dining room features oak veneer flooring and archway to the conservatory.

A large kitchen has plenty of storage space and includes many integrated appliances. A utility room has extra storage and space for a washing

For more details call Boot & Son on 01543 505 454.

Audio revolution for the property market

THE arrival of the talkies changed the movie business forever. Now leading local estate agents Bairstow Eves are helping to do the same for online property advertising, by being the first in Cannock to offer the revolutionary new AudioTours service from AudioAgent Ltd.

Developed in the UK by www.AudioAgent.com, the AudioTours for the first time harness the power of the spoken word to online property slideshows, through the use of professional voiceovers and even background music. It's a completely bespoke service.

Each script is individually crafted to reflect the particular characteristics of the property. And, with the skills of a whole team of professional voice artists to call on, clients can specify a particular regional accent or even a different language for the voiceover. The result: a hugely powerful interactive presentation tool which has the appeal and impact of a TV or cinema ad.

"Buyers love AudioTours, because they help them visualise properties online a way never before possible," says Kerry Miles, Senior Branch Manager.

"Indeed, combined with full colour photos, a comprehensive property description and floor plans, it's the next best thing to actually being there!"

For sellers, she adds, The AudioAgent.com AudioTours represent a uniquely powerful new way to present their home online, leading to higher quality viewings – and in turn helping to secure a sale at the best possible price.

AudioTours can be used in a variety of ways, she explains. "They can be easily uploaded, not only to our website – www.bairstoweves.co.uk – but also to all of the major property portals we advertise on, such as Rightmove, Zoopla, Property Finder, and Prime Location. "We can email them to prospective buyers."

"And, given the growing importance to business of online social networking, we can even upload to sites such as YouTube, Twitter and Facebook, if you wish."

All in all, then, AudioTours look set to revolutionise the whole business of house hunting online – and it's typical of Bairstow Eves that they should be in the forefront of this new wave.

"In today's competitive market we are constantly looking to offer our customers the best possible service, by combining traditional personal customer care with the very best that technology can deliver. And right now, AudioTours are just that!" says Kerry.

To find out more about how you can dramatically improve the online marketing of your home, call Bairstow Eves today on 01543 503678, or call in at their offices at 13 Wolverhampton Road, Cannock, WS11 1AP

Time for hanging baskets

IF YOU have a conservatory or cold greenhouse it's time to plant up hanging baskets and patio pots using your own seedlings or small plants from your local garden centre.

Select colours that match and you can create a delightful combination of blending colours that will please the eye. Go for contrasting hues and you will attract more interest for your bold use of colour. Whatever you choose from the garden centre displays of trailing verbena, fuchsia, petunia or geraniums plant them in containers of fresh Miracle-Gro Moisture Control Compost. This is the ultimate compost for maximum results. If the soil in your garden isn't acid then it can be difficult to keep rhododendrons, azaleas and other ericaceous plants thriving. After they have been established for a year, you will need to feed these pots with a special plant food to ensure they keep blooming vigorously and the leaves stay dark green.

Now these plants are in full leaf start feeding every couple of weeks with Miracle-Gro Azalea, Camellia and Rhododendron Plant Food.

If a regular feeding regime once a fortnight is difficult to manage, invest instead in slow release granules with the same name. Mix them during spring into the top inch of compost in the pot and water with rain water. One application will feed all season.

Sowing the seeds for herb collection

IT's a busy time for vegetables and herbs as there are plenty of seeds to be sown including Broad beans, beetroot, Brussels sprouts, carrots, cauliflower, leeks, onion sets, rocket, spinach, spring onions and turnip.

Select your family's favourites and remember that some, including carrots and rocket, can also make decorative edges to flower borders or can be grown in pots on the patio.

Some people sow broad beans in pots or tray cells during March so they have well established seedlings to plant outside in April. For those people who are not quite so well organised, it's time to plant out seeds directly in the soil where they are going to crop.

As with all vegetable crops you should dress the area with Miracle-Gro Fruit & Vegetable Plant Food or Growmore before sowing the seeds in double rows, 20cm (8in) apart.

Leave a 60cm gap between the double rows to give plants space to fill out.

Brussels sprouts, cauliflowers and cabbage are best started from seed in half trays of Miracle-Gro Seed & Cutting Compost. Cover the seed with a thin layer of compost and place inside a polythene bag to ensure a moist atmosphere.

Germinate

The planted tray can then be kept indoors on a windowsill or outdoors on a warm patio until they germinate. When the seedlings have grown the first two leaves, transplant into individual pots of Multi-Purpose Compost. They will be ready for planting in the soil in May and will appreciate firm planting in an enriched garden soil.

Salad leaves now come in all shapes, sizes and flavours. Cut-and-come-again loose leaf lettuce such as Lollo Rossa are usually found in mixed packets along with mizuna, salad rocket, red mustard and greek cress. When combined together they add real zingy flavours to salads.

Sow a short row of mixed seeds every two weeks in a sunny spot in the garden to provide tasty leaves for the summer.

The grow-your-own phenomenon has spread beyond a few tomatoes and lettuce in Planters and potatoes in Gro Sacs. Our TV chefs now use herbs in almost every dish and experiment with different tastes and culinary uses of vegetables and fruit.

Sowing seeds in compost is the easiest way to start your own herb collection and you can find packets of basil, coriander, chives and parsley at your local gardening outlet.

You could grow all four in one Herb Planter on a windowsill or in a warm spot on the patio. Specialist seedsmen have introduced some exciting variations such as Basil 'Aristotle' (T&M) that produces an 'ornamental edible' that eventually forms a compact mound of miniature leaves with a delicious 'greek' aroma. It's great for pots on the windowsill or on the patio. Coriander 'Confetti' has fern-like leaves that look like carrot foliage, said to be sweeter than normal coriander.

Some herbs like sage, thyme and rosemary are best bought as small pot plants that can form the core of any herb collection. Planted together in a large decorative pot filled with Levington John Innes No2 the roots will appreciate the good drainage.

Find a sunny spot by your back door and these herbs will be in second heaven.

Words supplied by Scotts Miracle-Gro Company. Always read the label and use pesticides safely.

Certain fruits need generous feeding

OUT in the fruit garden it's time to feed gooseberries, redcurrants, apples and pears with a general fertilizer such as Osmocote or Miracle-Gro Fruit & Vegetable Plant Food.

Similarly the fast growing fruit such as blackcurrants, loganberries, blackberries and raspberries will all need some generous feeding so that they can give of their best.

Once the fertilizer is down add a mulch layer of Levington Water Saving Decorative Bark to help suppress weeds and aid moisture retention.

Strawberries will be developing new leaves which are soft, tender and an ideal home to aphids. Control these with a spray of BugClear Gun! for Fruit & Vegetables. Hard frosts can damage the open blooms of strawberries preventing them from turning into fruit. When your plants are in flower cover them with newspapers on frosty nights to reduce damage.

GARDENING

Lawn is in need of boost to roots

AFTER a really cold winter laced with plenty of heavy rainfall and a relatively long period under snow, lawns in most areas of the country are looking a sorry sight.

Grasses have turned pale green verging towards yellow and some are showing brown patches of fusarium disease.

What lawns need now is a boost to the roots to encourage new strong growth and a change of colour from dull yellow to a rich vibrant green.

A high nitrogen feed will work miracles, especially if you fork the area of any brown patches before treatment. Spiking areas that could be infected by disease will improve drainage and help to halt their spread.

After you have cut your lawn in April apply a tonic such as EverGreen Cut & Feed to the grass and you will notice the grass turns visibly greener in just three days.

If your lawn is infected by moss and broadleaved weeds then you could wait until the end of the month before applying a triple action treatment such as EverGreen Complete that kills moss and weeds and feeds the lawn in one simple application.

Both of these products come in a hand-held spreader that treats a lawn up to 100 sq. metres in size. Just walk up and down the lawn to scatter the granules evenly over the area and the job's done.

It should take you no longer than 10 minutes to treat the average sized lawn and it shouldn't cost you more than £10.

If you have a larger lawn than average then you can save time and ensure a precise even application by applying lawn treatments with a wheeled spreader.

New this year is the EverGreen Easy Spreader Plus. It's simple to use and has a wide spreading width of 53cm (21in) that covers even a large lawn in a short time with precise even application. You can use it with any EverGreen lawn granule.

The spreader handle is easy to assemble and fit and offers an upright yet comfortable walking posture. Simple on/off controls at hopper level allow the spreader to be turned round at the end of a run without spillage onto wanted plants.

Weeding first job for a tidy garden

As plants in the garden put on new leaf growth and spring bulbs, shrubs and fruit trees provide attractive blooms it's time to get your hands dirty and get stuck in to some real gardening.

Now that outdoor soil is becoming warmer you will notice that weed seeds are sprouting – a sure indication that it's time for action. Your winter hibernation is over.

DECORATIVE GARDEN BORDERS

Weeds are the first job to be tackled if you are going to have a clean and tidy garden this spring. If they are left to grow unfettered they will swamp your flower border robbing the soil and the surrounding plants of available nutrients, moisture and space.

The quickest way to clear the weeds is to spray them off with Weedol Rootkill Plus or Fast Action Roundup RTU, taking care to only wet the weeds, not the surrounding plants. This will save hours of back-breaking work hand weeding and the removal of piles of unwanted growth.

Feeding established roses, shrubs and herbaceous perennials such as delphiniums, campanula and peony is an essential job in spring. To encourage maximum flowering, buy a feed that is high in potassium such as Rose Plus or Miracle-Gro Slow Release Rose & Shrub Plant Food. Sprinkle one or two handfuls around each plant and use a hand trowel to work the granules into the top 3cm of soil.

If you have large clumps of delphiniums that have lost their flowering vigour, the best remedy is to divide the clump up into separate plants so each one has enough room to create a full root system that will support some beautiful large flowers. Dig up the clump and pull apart into smaller portions that have strong roots and shoots.

Once watered in, thoroughly spread

The quickest way to clear the weeds is with Fast Action Roundup RTU

Words and pictures supplied by Scotts Miracle-Gro Company. Always read the label and use pesticides safely a mulch layer of organic matter over the soil surface to hold in moisture and to deter weeds. For the best looking results spread a layer of Forest Bark chips from Levington to make a great decorative textured finish.

Tender plants such as dahlias need planting in garden borders so that new shoots emerge in May after the last frost is over. Dig planting holes at least 15cm deep leaving a gap of around 60cm between plants. Dahlias are thirsty customers so prepare the soil well by digging in plenty of organic matter into the bottom of the planting hole and adding several handfuls of Miracle-Gro Slow Release Plant Food to the soil that you work between the swollen fingers of the tubers and up to normal ground level.

Sowing seeds of hardy annuals can be started out in garden soil as soon as temperatures are warm enough. Subjects for open planting include sweet peas, love-in-a-mist, cornflower, California poppy (Eschscholzia) pot marigold (calendula) poached egg plant (Limnathes) clarkia and godetia.

You can also buy a packet of mixed hardy annuals as wildflower mixtures – there's one to attract butterflies, one a meadowland mix and another a fragrant mix.

Don't forget that nasturtiums make great ground cover or climbers.

Bloor Homes is a builder known for the high specification of its homes, but at its Satchwell Grange development in Wednesbury it is going one step further by offering a stylish new car free with one highlighted plot. As well as getting three bedrooms and a garage, the purchasers of the development's Leybourne view home will get four wheels in the form of a Mini 'First' worth nearly £12,000.

The free car is the brainchild of the sales team at Satchwell Grange, who were looking for something a little special as an added incentive on this elegant new home.

Sales advisor Cheryl Nock says: "With this home, you get everything - a superb range of accommodation in a well-designed layout that gives you optimum space and style. As this has been our view home, you also get carpets, light fittings and a garden that is already turfed and fenced, so it was a case of 'what else could you ask for?' We decided that the answer was a new car to go in the garage. What could be better than the combination of a brand new house and a brand new car?"

The home chosen for this special offer is a two-storey, three-bedroom semi Leybourne priced at £149,950. It has a generous range of accommodation, with a spacious well-fitted kitchen/breakfast room, and a spacious lounge on the ground floor and 2 bedrooms and family bathroom on the first floor. The master bedroom is a particular feature of this home, with an en-suite shower room, one double wardrobe, plus an additional single.

Highlighting the accommodation, Cheryl says: "This is an excellent family home with plenty of space."

Satchwell Grange is situated in a very popular residential area in Wednesbury, which is close to both Darlaston and Wednesbury shopping areas. It offers a choice of three and four and five-bedroom homes with something for everyone from the first-time buyer to the family looking for more space. On the current release, prices range from £129,950 for a two-bedroom semi to £299,950 for a five-bedroom detached home. There are excellent local facilities, with shops within walking distance, plus a choice of good schools in the area. Wednesbury has close links to the M6 so is perfectly placed for commuting.

TOYOTA VERSO-S

ROAD 1

Toyota courts 'empty nesters'

YOU are unlikely to see any 'Saga' drivers trying out their new Verso-S on the local race track – but that is not to say this new mini-MPV is unworthy of the Toyota badge.

Between 1999 and 2006 Toyota sold more than 150,000 of the Yaris Verso in Europe, but then dropped the model.

Since then the increasing number of affluent 'Saga' empty nesters wanting a car that offered high seating, easy entry and egress in a well-built, comfortable and reliable car have had to look elsewhere.

So the market has been filled by a number of other makes including the Honda Jazz, Nissan Note, Kia Venga and Hyundai ix20.

But now Toyota has bounced back into the market, and is even offering the Verso-S at a special introductory price for the next six months. The new model is based on the latest version of the Yaris, but is being built in Japan rather than France.

There are just two models to choose from, both with the same 1.3 litre 98PS petrol engine delivering only 125NM torque. So it is hardly going to win any acceleration races and needs all six ratios of its six speed manual gearbox, or if you prefer it, the automatic CVT-7 version, to make reasonable progress.

In the CVT version you can just put the car in Drive and let it choose its own ratios, although I did find this version noisier than the manual. Surprisingly, it is more economical than the manual version.

However another advantage of this version is that it is the only automatic MPV of this size to fall into the £30 a year tax bracket – the manual is £90 a year to tax.

The car offers five comfortable fully belted seats, split rear seats that fold with just one touch, a lipless rear sill with between 393 and 336 litre of load space (more than enough for the weekly shopping trip or weekend away).

There are two trim models to choose from – the TR and the T-Spirit. The T-Spirit has even more bootspace because

The Verso S is cheap to run, easy to drive and comfortable – but no diesels are on offer. It is well equipped in both forms and has bags of room for the shopping instead of a space saver spare it has a tyre repair kit and that makes 429 litres of space. This is because the T-Spirit comes with a super glass panoramic roof that stretches from front to rear of the car. But it is heavier than a metal roof. So to compensate Toyota dropped the spare wheel. You can always buy the spare wheel as an extra and that will not increase the car tax.

Central locking

Both models are well equipped – all have height adjustable seats, adjustable steering wheel, lots of airbags, ABS with EBD and Brake Assist, reversing camera, electric front windows, six speaker RDS radio/CD/MP3 player, manual air conditioning, remote central locking and front fog lamps.

Panoramic

The T-Spirit version gains alloy wheels, all-round electric windows, the panoramic roof and rear privacy glass.

There is also a touch screen Bluetooth information and entertainment system that doubles up for the reversing camera. And from May this year this can be boosted for £500 to become a full scale sat nav system. It will then have access to the Google local search system when used with a compatible smartphone.

Although there is a diesel version it will not be offered in the UK because Toyota GB argues that low mileage drivers will not find it cost effective to spend an extra £1,000-plus for the diesel engine. The diesel engine also does not like repeated short runs.

Toyota expects to sell around 30,000 a year in Europe and about 3,000 in the UK. Virtually all will go to retail customers, and it expects the majority of older drivers to plump for the CVT version.

Prices start from £14,645 for the TR manual, (reduced to £13,995 for six months) and £15,745 for the T-Spirit manual (reduced to £14,995) The CVT versions add £1,150. On the road the car is easy to drive, ride quality and comfort are good and there are no squeaks or rattles.

In the standard TR version you get a lot of equipment that is not offered by the lower priced competitors, and also lower tax bands. The car also comes with the five year Toyota warranty. It is graded 8E for insurance

Vauxhall pips rivals to head sales chart

The Astra was the second-best selling Vauxhall behind the Corsa as the firm topped the February sales chart

Vauxhall dominated UK car sales last month with a total of 9,812 cars registered, nearly 2,300 more than those of any other manufacturer.

Led by the Corsa, which recorded sales of 2,617, Vauxhall ended February with five models in the top ten. The Astra – which now includes the British-built Sports Tourer – was the second best-selling Vauxhall, followed by the Insignia, Zafira and Meriva.

Vauxhall also blitzed three individual sectors: mid-size, with the Insignia; compact MPV, with the Zafira and Meriva; and small-car with the Corsa.

With the exception of the Zafira, all Vauxhall's top-ten models have come to market in the last two years and each has rapidly grown within its respective class. In 2010, the Astra was the UK's best-selling retail car, while both the Insignia and Zafira led their segments overall, with the Insignia proving the most popular fleet purchase in the mid-size class. But British buyers haven't just been attracted by the strength and breadth of Vauxhall's model line-up. The company's Lifetime Warranty has also provided buyers of new and selected Network Q used cars with a level of reassurance which is unique in the market, enhancing the appeal of every car in the range.

Duncan Aldred, Vauxhall's managing director, said: "Vauxhall is making headway like never before in the British car market. Last month proved that we are now capable of attracting more customers than any other manufacturer, and this is down to the strength of our products, their competitive pricing and a warranty on every new car which has the potential to last a lifetime."

Finance

Meanwhile, Vauxhall is offering a year's insurance-free motoring to all new pre-facelift Corsa customers this month, topped up with a range of attractive finance deals and zero-deposit offers that make the Corsa a must-see choice for buyers after the best new-reg deal in town.

Customers can choose between a number of Vauxhall finance deals including a three-year zero per cent finance deal or a supported personal contract hire (PCH) plan, where a Corsa SXi costs just £195 a month with a £575 deposit.

The offer is available on pre-facelift Corsas, on trim levels including Exclusiv and SRI. For drivers after a higher spec, a limited edition Corsa could be theirs for just £348 on a zero per cent deal.

Young Corsa drivers will really benefit from the deal, saving up to £2,300 a year on insurance, and spreading the cost over three, interest-free years. For example, a Corsa S offers a bank balance-friendly three-year zero per cent finance option with no deposit and free insurance for one year. So, choose an S model Corsa and pay only £324 per month.

These new Vauxhall offers come as the rising cost of car insurance puts increasing pressure on motorists, especially young drivers who have seen a 51 per cent rise in insurance over the last 12 months.

It's Bulli for VW after concept proves a hit

VW's Bulli is a development of the Microbus project and seats six in a vehicle the length of a Golf

ONE of the stars of this year's Geneva Motor Show was Volkswagen's trendy concept, the Bulli, a new-style people carrier which revives the look of the firm's popular Samba bus.

The Bulli is a development of the Microbus concept which made its debut ten years ago in 2001 and its origins go back to the first Volkswagen people carrier, which broke cover back in 1950 with the production of the first Transporter.

More compact than the 2001 concept vehicle, the new Bulli is powered by an electric motor and fitted with six seats and infotainment control via iPad.

It is front-engined and front-wheel drive. On a wheelbase measuring 2.62 metres – slightly longer than that of a Golf (2.58 m) – the new Bulli measures 3.99m in length, 1.75m in width and 1.70m in height. In relation to its width it has a wide track (1.50 m front and rear), and very short overhangs at the front and back. Its kerb weight is 1,450 kg. This includes the weight of the lithium-ion battery, which is concealed in the floor behind the sills and powers the Bulli's electric motor.

This engine produces 115PS of power and the theoretical driving range is up to 186 miles – high for an electric car. With this electric motor, the new Bulli can accelerate from zero to 62 mph in 11.5 seconds and go on to an electronically limited top speed of 87 mph.

Phone

The concept could also accommodate, as an alternative power source, one of Volkswagen's efficient petrol and diesel direct injection engines.

Like the original Samba bus, the Bulli presented in Geneva has two-tone paint and a distinctive 'V' on the bonnet; its 18-inch alloy wheels with stylised chrome hubcaps are another tribute to the Samba bus. Inside the Bulli has six seats: three on a front bench seat (which can be split and folded) and three on the rear bench which can be folded flat to maximise loadspace – or turn into a bed in the true spirit of the iconic campervan. When all six seating locations are occupied, a 370 litre loadspace is available; with seats folded, the cargo capacity of the 1.8 metre long interior increases to 1,600 litres.

A removable iPad in the centre console serves as a multifunctional touchscreen. Along with internet-based applications and the media centre, it also handles phone and navigation functions.

There is no tachometer (unnecessary with an electric motor) nor a centre console, nor gear lever. The latter is replaced by a rotary switch to the right of the driver, which is used to select forward and reverse gears. A push button in the same switch is used to activate and switch off the motor.

KIA MOTORS
The Power to Surprise™

Renault set to unveil seven vehicles at NEC

The Kangoo Maxi Van ZE is one of seven new vehicles Renault will be unveiling at the CV Show

RENAULT will unveil no fewer than seven new vehicles at this year's CV Show at the NEC in Birmingham, including the fully-electric Kangoo Van Zero Emission (ZE).

Following on from last year's record UK LCV sales, Renault will have one of the largest presences at this year's event, with a stand more than twice the size of last year's at 915m².

Taking pride of place in its 14-strong vehicle display, will be Renault's 100 per cent electric Kangoo Van ZE.

Unsurprisingly, against a backdrop of ever-increasing fuel prices, Renault is expecting the largest draw on its stand to be its new Kangoo, which aims to prove that electric LCVs can be affordable to run, good to drive, as well as offer a more relaxed driving environment, due to its near silent operation.

The French brand's compact vans will be available from autumn this year in both two and five-seat versions.

Kangoo ZE vans are priced at £16,990 for the van, £17,990 (longer wheelbase two-seat Maxi) and £18,690 (five-seat Maxi) excluding VAT, plus £59 monthly battery lease over four years/9,000 miles per year.

Limelight

Sharing the limelight with their sibling, and emphasising the growth of Renault's fully renewed LCV range ahead of their UK launches in the second quarter of 2011, will be several new additions to the Master range. Four factory-built products – Box Van, Dropside, Tipper and 17-seat minibus, plus two locally converted products – Luton Van and Curtainside.

Fleet and commercial vehicle operations director, Darren Payne, said: "We've made no bones about our ambitious plans to increase our share of the UK conversions market to eight per cent in the months ahead."

"Our wealth of new models on show underlines that message, and I'm equally pleased to be showing Kangoo Van ZE, the first affordable factory-built electric van in the UK."

"We truly believe we have something for everyone and I'm genuinely looking forward to seeing customer reactions to our expanded range in a few weeks time."

Renault will be based in Hall 5 at the show.

The VW Golf Cabriolet is slightly smaller than the Eos. First UK deliveries are expected in September.

Volkswagen reviving cabrio version of Golf

VOLKSWAGEN'S all-new Golf Cabriolet is being unveiled at the current Geneva Motor Show.

The two-door, four-seater, front-engined soft top is the first Golf Cabriolet available since the Mk IV Golf.

It builds on the company's heritage for producing popular convertibles which started with the original Beetle cabriolet and continues today with the Eos.

With sales of around 1.42 million units, Volkswagen is one of the world's most successful producers of convertibles.

The latest Golf Cabriolet marks a whole new era of open-top motoring, boasting an electrically-powered soft top which can be lowered in just 9.5 seconds including on the move at speeds up to around 18mph, a range of efficient petrol and diesel engines as well as the highest levels of quality, refinement and safety.

The Golf Cabriolet is smaller than the Eos, though both cars share the same wheelbase. From the front the new model is unmistakably a Golf, and adopts the now familiar 'face' incorporating the latest Volkswagen 'design DNA'.

Raked

The heavily raked windscreen gives it a sportier appearance than the hatchback model, while at the rear, new LED lights and a deep crease in the bootlid endow the new Golf Cabriolet with its own individual style.

Inside the Golf Cabriolet's appearance matches very closely that of the hatchback, adopting the same high-quality materials and design. The new Golf Cabriolet will be offered in the UK with a choice of trim levels – S, SE and GT – and all will have a high level of standard specification.

As customers would expect from any car in the Golf family, the Cabriolet will be equipped with the highest levels of safety equipment. This will include an active roll-over protection system, ABS, ESP, airbags all round and a driver's knee airbag.

A choice of six engines will be available. Volkswagen UK plans to begin taking orders for the new Golf Cabriolet in July, with the first customer orders arriving in September.

More details and pricing information will be available closer to launch.

Official fuel consumption figures in mpg (l/100km): Ford Car range: urban 38.7 - 38.2 (7.3-7.4), extra urban 64.2 - 62.8 (4.4-4.5), combined 51.4 - 50.4 (5.5-5.6). Official CO₂ emission 127.0-129.0g/km. Retail only. Metallic paint extra cost. Vehicles shown for illustration purposes only. This supersedes all previously advertised manufacturer's promotions. Details correct at time of going to print. Subject to availability. Contact us for terms and conditions. Applies to new vehicles registered between 16/03/2011 and 31/03/2011. Where savings are shown, advertised prices are calculated by deducting the saving from the manufacturer's recommended OTR price.

New Picanto

in debut at

Geneva Show

Kia bosses expect the new Picanto to prove more popular than the old model

The all-new Kia Picanto, making its global premiere at the Geneva Motor Show, has been redesigned and re-engineered with sharp styling to completely redefine its position as one of the most competitive vehicles in the 'city car' market.

With looks that convey a sense of solidity and maturity, new efficient engines and reduced CO2 emissions from 90 g/km, high levels of specification and safety features, the Picanto will be offered for the first time with a choice of five and three door body styles.

Soon-Nam Lee, director of overseas marketing, Kia Motors Corporation, said: "Our new Picanto is now a small car, grown-up."

"We anticipate that global demand for small A-segment cars will be in the region of 2.4 million units annually over the next six years and we are confident that new Picanto will enable us to capture a larger share of this market."

The first generation Picanto was launched in 2004 and went on to achieve more than 1.1 million sales globally over the following seven years, with sales in the UK totalling 77,810.

Kia believes the new car will become even more popular.

UK consumers will benefit from the next generation Picanto's greatly reduced CO2 emissions, improved fuel economy and reduced ownership costs when the model goes on sale later this year.

Kia has attempted to transform the character of the car from 'cute and feminine' into 'mature and handsome'.

Clever

Up front, the face of the Picanto expresses the same assertive vigour and refinement as its bigger brothers, the Venga and the Sportage, and shares with them the same signature 'tiger nose' grille. Picanto's daylight running lights emphasise the high level of design and high tech sophistication.

This bold front end is supported by a strongly-sculpted and dynamic body which embodies the strength and maturity of the Picanto and gives the vehicle a real 'premium presence' on the road.

While it will now be a more stylish car, the new 3.6m long Picanto will also remain an extremely practical option.

On the outside, overall vehicle length has increased by 60 mm, and the wheelbase has grown by 15 mm.

These increases, and some clever interior packaging, have enhanced the cabin space for people (front legroom is up by 36 mm), and for luggage, with boot capacity increased by 27 per cent to 200 litres.

Attention to small details of the exterior design have improved the new Picanto's aerodynamics, reducing its drag figure to just Cd 0.31 – better than the vast majority of A-segment cars.

Projection-style headlamps and LED rear lamps will be available, together with a choice of steel or alloy wheels up to 15 inches – bringing added sophistication to the exterior appearance.

Kia expects the new sportier three-door model to account for around 30 per cent of Picanto sales.

Alfa Romeo unveils its stunning budget supercar 4C concept at the Geneva Motor Show

The 4C is compact sister to Alfa's 8C supercar and uses lightweight construction allied to a high-tech engine to boost performance

Alfa Romeo has wowed visitors to the 81st Geneva International Motor Show with its 'compact supercar' – the 4C Concept.

The vehicle represents the true essence of a sports car and blends high performance with Italian style and technical excellence.

The new concept presents the classic formula of the two-seater, rear-wheel drive coupé with its engine at the centre. Its length is around 4m and a wheelbase of less than 2.4m; dimensions which serve both to emphasise the compact size of the car and to accentuate its agility.

The interior features styling and devices which directly reflect the car's sporting spirit.

The Alfa Romeo 4C Concept nods towards the 8C Competizione supercar in terms of its technology and materials, with carbon and aluminium being allied to a rear-wheel drive layout.

It features the 1750 turbo petrol engine with direct injection already in use in the brand's range, the Alfa TCT twin dry clutch transmission and Alfa 'DNA' dynamic control selector.

Born from the experience acquired through the Alfa Romeo 8C Competizione and 8C Spider models, the new concept car shares its rear-wheel drive with the exclusive supercars as well as its philosophy based on achieving maximum driving pleasure and the proverbial Alfa Romeo road handling.

This is an objective which the 8C Competizione and the 8C Spider pursue mainly through their increased power, while the Alfa Romeo 4C Concept follows the route of limited weight, made possible by extensive use of carbon, which also plays a structural role and guarantees exceptional agility with a weight/power ratio which is lower than 4 kg/hp.

The chassis supports a body crafted completely from carbon, inside which there is space for the driver and passenger, while the rear frame structure and the crash boxes use aluminium extensively.

The final result is a significant reduction in weight, limited to less than 850kg, as well as the optimisation of the vehicle's centre of gravity, which gives the advantage of increased agility and drivability on the most challenging roads.

The name 4C Concept is suggestive of the sports driving pleasure which the 200+hp 1750 turbo petrol engine brings. Already featured on a number of models in production, for example the Giulietta Quadrifoglio Verde, the engine boasts cutting-edge technical solutions such as direct injection, dual continuous variable valve timing, turbocharger and the revolutionary 'scavenging' control system which eliminates turbo lag.

Located centrally in the rear of the vehicle, the engine in the Alfa Romeo 4C Concept ensures performance which matches or exceeds that of a three-litre engine whilst still delivering the moderate fuel consumption which is typical of a compact, four-cylinder engine.

Coupled with the new automatic Alfa TCT twin dry clutch transmission, launched only a few months ago on the MiTo and which will soon be available on the Giulietta, the powerful 1750 Turbo petrol engine allows the 4C Concept to accelerate from 0-62mph in under five seconds.

Enjoyable

The vehicle integrates its Alfa DNA technology perfectly, a true philosophy which brings together all of the on-board technology, making it enjoyable and customisable for the driver.

The Alfa Romeo 4C Concept has an extremely sophisticated suspension layout (high quadrilateral at the front, MacPherson at the rear) to ensure maximum agility and road handling.

This solution, along with the rear-wheel drive and the extraordinary weight/power ratio, ensures Alfa Romeo driving pleasure, enhanced even further by the weight distribution (40 per cent on the front axle and 60 per cent on the rear axle).

The concept seizes the brand's sporting tradition and takes it back to its origins, when agility and the weight/power ratio were the keys to a successful racing vehicle.

It combines these aspects with elements of Alfa Romeos which take to the road every day.

This car is not simply an exercise in style created for the motor show – Alfa bosses say the car will be put into production and will go on sale next year.

LEA HALL 2 CHASE ATHLETIC U-11 JUNIORS 1

In a close game between the division's top two sides, an extra time strike condemned Chase to defeat in this cup semi-final and ruined their hopes of the treble.

HEDNESFORD UNITED U-11 GIRLS 5 BROWNHILLS COLTS 0

Hednesford won their seventh game in succession against a plucky Brownhills side.

The winning margin was well deserved, with Lois Brindley, named Player of the Match by the opposition, leading the way with a hat-trick.

MILFORD U-12 GIRLS 1 CHASSETOWN GIRLS 1

After the previous week's defeat at Chasetown, Milford went all out to get their revenge.

A Delap style throw and a skilful chip saw Milford go one up. Chasetown absorbed more pressure in the second half with keeper Lucy Wildsmith making some key saves but Chasetown never gave up and moving captain Molly Heale up front from midfield paid off when a lovely through ball from Amy Snape was flicked on by Summer Johnson and Player of the Match Heale powered it through the keeper's legs.

Tragic news as fisherman dies

ANGLING BY VERNON LEADBETTER – SPONSORED BY ARCHLINE ANGLING, COARSE, CARP, GAME & SEA FISHING TACKLE STOCKISTS

WE were shocked by the tragic news last week, that local angler and regular customer Dave Clark had passed away while fishing at Kingswood Lake. Dave loved his carp fishing and our thoughts are with his family.

After a bad start to the year with ice, ice and more ice, things are steadily improving at Fisherwick Lakes. Three different 20lb carp were recently caught by regular Dave Radford, the best was a 22-9 common on zigrigs.

Paul Addis from Lichfield, fishing a weekend session caught a 20lb common plus eight other fish with the smallest being 9lb.

The trout lake has been re-stocked with the addition of some blue trout up to 6lbs. The rest of the stocking of triploid rainbows to over 2lb were put in.

Buzzer hatches have started and fish are being caught on buzzers up in the water and there are still a few fish taking fry patterns, so some exciting sport can be had at the moment.

Blackfords AC waters have been fishing well with carp being caught at the Turf and Calf Heath Reservoir.

Loynton Trout fishery continues to produce some specimen rainbow trout and a Mr Hardy from Stafford had a 15lb beauty last week.

Nash Tackle are in our store on Saturday (March 19) to demonstrate new products and offer tips to help improve your fishing.

They will also have samples of these eagerly awaited new top of the range carp rods.

There is a prize draw on the day for a selection of Nash tackle.

There are two places left on our fly tying course, the cost is £60 which includes materials for the 15 patterns that will be tied over the five-week course.

If you want to attend a single session rather than enrol for the full course the cost is £20.

CANTERBURY TALE THAT HAS HAPPY ENDING

CANTERBURY 2 CANNOCK 1ST XI 5

CANNOCK travelled to Canterbury on Saturday night for their Sunday afternoon clash against relegation rivals.

Cannock knew how important the game was to their hopes of staying in the league and set out to right the wrongs that had seen them draw 4-4 at home to the division's bottom side earlier in the season.

Cannock got off to a great start when Dave Harris opened the scoring in the first couple of minutes. This terrific start however, was soon turned upside by the home side as they scored from two clinical short corners to lead 2-1 at half-time.

Following a massive team-talk from coach Andy Mitchell, a huge effort and performance was demanded from his players, and they responded in turn with four second half goals.

A hat-trick from captain Richard Lane and a second for Dave Harris saw Cannock leave Canterbury with a vital three points.

The result meant that Canterbury can no longer catch Cannock with two games and six points to play for.

Cannock are now four points ahead of rivals Brooklands and with only two games to go Cannock have their survival in their own hands.

This Saturday sees them entertain league leaders East Grinstead at Chase Park at 1.30pm. With both sides needing the points, it should be a classic.

CANTERBURY 4TH 8 NOTTINGHAM UNIVERSITY 2
The Nottingham University side have had a mixed bag of results and the fact that they arrived with only 10 men did not mean that Cannock took them any less seriously.

The three points were Cannock's only target and they made the early running with several chances before Dave Wigg made the breakthrough.

Nottingham had a number of fast and skilful players that they utilised very well and as Cannock pushed forward Nottingham started to loft aerials into the path of their advancing forwards.

This tactic resulted in a short corner for Notts from which they sent the ball into the top left corner of the net.

Cannock scored a second through Aaron Wilkes, but Notts continued to break and create chances leading to a further short corner and a second goal.

After regrouping, goal machine Matt Sanders bagged a hat-trick. Andy Balmer deflected in from a well worked short corner, Alex Hill got on the score-sheet and Josh Ward drove the ball home after the Notts keeper had blocked two previous shots.

WARWICK 4TH XI 1 CANNOCK 5TH XI 1
Cannock travelled to Warwick with high hopes after a convincing victory against them earlier in the season.

But they found it hard going when not being able to find their usual rhythm or style.

In a controversial and frustrating first half, Cannock were unable to take their chances while Warwick only managed one shot on goal.

CANNOCK 6TH XI 0 TELFORD 4TH XI 1
Cannock lined up against Telford without their skipper, but that didn't stop an epic battle of two very evenly matched teams.

In an end-to-end game, Telford took their chance with three minutes to go but there was one last chance for Cannock on the whistle from a short corner but nobody could get the deflection at the back post.

CANNOCK BADGERS 'A' 4 YARDLEY 0
It was a good day for Cannock's Badgers as firstly the 'A' side were 4-0 winners against Yardley thanks to a double strike from Ed Sweeney and singles for Angus Bulpitt and Jordan Joiner.

CANNOCK BADGERS 'B' 0 NORTH STAFFORD BADGERS 0

Badgers 'B' travelled to North Staffs and fought out a hard 0-0 draw.

Special mention must go to Jack Rolfe who performed admirably in attack while Jake Bilson, Danny Swinnerton-Ions and Ben Hawthorne all had great games.

LECK LADIES 2ND 0 CANNOCK LADIES 3RD 2

Cannock have endured a long and at times a difficult season after losing a lot of players in the summer, however, hard work, effort and commitment has begun to pay off in recent weeks and the previous week had seen them move out of the bottom four for the first time since October.

This game was sure to be a crucial game in deciding the final league standings and Cannock proved good enough to earn their fourth victory on the spin courtesy of a Sophie Tibbetts double.

STREETLY LADIES 1ST 8 CANNOCK LADIES 5TH 0

Cannock travelled to top of the league Streetly on the back of a victory over Tamworth but despite their best efforts the result was not quite what Cannock were looking for.

Cannock missed captain Lydia Gallagher and fellow defender Katie Gallagher and, coupled with a series of injuries during the game, the afternoon proved one to forget for Cannock.

CANNOCK LADIES 6TH 2 STAFFORD LADIES 4TH 0

Cannock 6ths were to be able to play their full side for one of the few times this season against Stafford who are four places above them in the league.

Cannock looked good when they began to string passes together and this paid off with great passes from Claire Stevens and Jane Wigg and a fantastic finish by Teresa Martin.

Stafford came out strongly after the break and created a few chances but Cannock replied with a superb strike by young Laurie Horn – her first goal for the sixth team.

CANNOCK LADIES VIXENS XI 1 WOLVERHAMPTON LADIES VIXENS XI 0

A strong performance was rewarded with a well earned victory with a goal scored by Hannah Talbot.

LICHFIELD'S under-14s Boys played in the final round of the Midlands League at Stourport.

They played positively against a well-drilled Worcester team in their first match winning 2-1.

LICHFIELD HOCKEY

LICHFIELD MENS 1ST 4 NORTH STAFFORD 0
In a game that was dubbed a potential banana skin, Lichfield simply blew away their opponents with the scoreline somewhat flattering the home team.

Lichfield started brightly and went ahead when a Danny Campbell cross was converted by Ali Gardiner.

It was soon 2-0 after a mistimed tackle on Campbell led to a short corner which led to Andrew Thackery sweeping in Lichfield's second.

Gardiner made it 3-0 and Lichfield threatened to run riot before Campbell made it four.

With one point still separating the top two teams, Lichfield go into the remaining two weeks of the season knowing they must win their remaining games to stand a chance of promotion.

LICHFIELD MENS 2ND 3 COVENTRY & NW 3

This home fixture against Coventry & North Warwick was an all-action affair. Lichfield took an early lead through Andy Parker, but were pegged back almost immediately.

Lewis saw his penalty flick saved, but Glenn Humphries restored Lichfield's lead. The visitors again struck back to keep things tight at the break.

In the second half Jack Childs continued his impressive scoring form, tidying up from a penalty corner. Unfortunately, Lichfield could not hang on for a win as C & NW scored a fine penalty corner to earn a draw in a compelling match.

CHESTERFIELD 0 LICHFIELD MENS 4TH XI 2

the 4ths continue their march towards the title with a hard-fought 2-0 victory, with a brace of goals from Olly Bowen.

LICHFIELD MENS 7TH XI 1 WEDNESBURY 1
Dominic Burden scored on his debut as the team turned in a much-improved performance against a

LICHFIELD LADIES 1ST XI 3 TAMWORTH 3

Lichfield thought only a win would do to be sure of going up with two games in hand, but with Bourville being held to a draw it meant promotion was secured.

The deadlock was broken by Tamworth and they went 2-0 up before Laura Groves pulled one back.

Jas Vernon levelled up matters but it was left to Nicky Mills with her 24th of the season, to earn a point after Tamworth had taken the lead again.

LICHFIELD LADIES 4TH XI 9 ALDRIDGE WALSALL 4TH 0

Lichfield dominated from the start of this and the result took their tally of goals since the start of the season to 108.

Two goals apiece from Emma Nuttall, Lindsey Evans, Angela Mason and captain Prue Nickson made it 8-0 and Beth Jacob added the ninth.

LICHFIELD LADIES 5TH 14 STREETLY 2ND 0

Still in the promotion hunt in Staffs Division 4 Lichfield Ladies 5th XI managed a four goal win against Streetly with two goals for Emma Bennett one for Claire Little and one for Lauren Foulds.

Skipper spot on as double is recorded

BURSCOUGH 0 CHASETOWN 3
CHASETOWN completed their second league victory over Burscough this season with a 3-0 success at Victoria Park on Saturday.

All the goals came in the second half with the Linnetts being reduced to 10 men following a foul that led to the opener on 58 minutes. Substitute Gary Birch was brought down while through on goal with Zak Riley red-carded.

Skipper Richard Teesdale stepped up to blast the ball to the goalkeeper's right to put the Scholars ahead.

Six minutes from time Mark Branch curled a corner to the edge of the six-yard box and Ramone Stephens was in place to hammer the loose ball into the net for Chasetown's second.

The Scholars put the lid on it five minutes later when a fine flowing move from midfield saw Birch lay the ball for Richard Davies to fire into the roof of the net and complete a fine Scholars victory.

Richard Davies was on the scoresheet at Burscough

CHASETOWN 1 NORTHWICH VICTORIA 0

GARY BIRCH'S second half goal was the difference in a somewhat lacklustre display as Chasetown beat Northwich Victoria 1-0 on Tuesday night.

The striker found the Scholars only two clear chances of the game, his first effort bouncing back off the post but his second was successful to seal three more vital points.

With both teams pushing for a playoff place a lively night's action was in prospect and both teams began in attacking fashion, the Vics having the first chance when Wayne Riley fired wide at the far post following a fine cross from the left by Andy Fowler.

Fowler went close again for Northwich in the 15th minute before stand-in Scholars keeper Darren Acton had to be alert to fling himself low and stop Riley's attack on 27 minutes.

Tony Evans burst through twice for the Vics but was beaten by the offside flag, while Riley's 42nd-minute corner was mis-kicked by former West Bromwich man Pedro Monteiro and John Branch was able to clear before Acton got behind Brian Summer-skills's tamely struck shot.

Chasetown's first clear chance of the game came in the 52nd minute when Birch unleashed a shot from a tight angle on the left but the ball clanged off the far post and away to safety.

Two minutes later Birch's luck changed for the better as Danny Smith received a through ball in the area and set up the striker to lash a shot past Spencer.

Whitby Town visit the Scholars Ground on Saturday (March 19), kick off 3pm before Chasetown travel to champions-elect FC Halifax Town next Tuesday (22), kick off at 7.45pm.

Defeat seen by smallest crowd

CHASETOWN 2 MICKLEOVER SPORTS 3
FOLLOWING the FA Trophy quarter final defeat against Mansfield, the Scholars' smallest Evo-Stik crowd of the season slip to another defeat in this rearranged fixture.

A fourth-minute free kick from Richard Davies was punched into the air by Sports keeper Damian Clarke but Ben Jevons sent the follow-up shot over the bar.

Richard Teesdale was next to go close as his effort went over following a corner, but from another corner Steve Abbott was successful as his header beat the defence and flew into the net to put the Scholars in front.

The visitors' first hint at a breakthrough did not come until the half-hour and out of seemingly nowhere on 36 minutes Eric Graves slipped an equaliser inside the near post past Ryan Price.

Mickleover were quicker out of the gate as the second half began and within two minutes Kieran O'Connell beat the Chasetown defence from the right and fired the visitors into the lead.

A free kick from Alex Steadman somehow sneaked through the Scholars wall and evaded Price for Mickleover's third on 51 minutes but three minutes later Ben Jevons rifled home a 20-yarder.

HEDNESFORD 2 TIVERTON TOWN 0

TWO second half goals secured a vital three points for Hednesford – their 10th win in 12 games since the turn of the year – as they eventually broke down a spirited and committed Tiverton Town.

The victory was made even more important by other results as the Pitmen's play off rivals stuttered. Truro lost to an 86th minute goal at Brackley, Cambridge drew with Bashley and Chesham lost to a Didcot side who had won just one game at home all season.

Nick Wellecome celebrates

HEDNESFORD TOWN

Kyle Patterson finally broke the deadlock on 69 minutes against side whose performance belied their lowly league position.

Darren Campion kept the ball in on the left wing and lobbed a perfectly judged cross for the in-form striker to head into the top corner from two yards out.

The opening goal broke a stout resistance from a side who were languishing second from bottom of the table before kick-off and Tiverton's performance will no doubt give them a glimmer of hope during the final run-in.

Tiverton started the better and saw Jules Emati Emati's shot blocked in the opening five minutes. But it was Hednesford who had the better chances in the first half as Ross Davidson's volley was deflected wide and Nick Wellecome, put through by Campion, saw his finish smothered well by Ryan Draper.

David Steele shot straight at Dan Crane three minutes after half time and Patterson should have punished that miss when, with half the goal gaping, he contrived to shoot powerfully over the bar on 52 minutes.

Tiverton had to push men forward following the opening goal and the Keys Park faithful had their hearts in the mouths as Emati Emati played a neat one-two and forced Dan Crane into a smart block with 16 minutes to go. Three Tiverton corners followed in succession with the final set piece flashing across g

Hednesford secured the game in the dying moments as Russell Jee hesitated in the area and Nick Wellecome dismissed the substitute and clinically stroked the ball beyond Ryan Draper.

Kyle Patterson scores another important goal

HEDNESFORD TOWN 1 BANBURY UNITED 0

IT won't go down as one of the most memorable games of the campaign but this victory could be one of the more important ones.

The Pitmen moved into the play-offs ahead of their trip to Cirencester Town on Saturday thanks to Kyle Patterson's first half strike.

These three points could well end up being the difference when it comes to the promotion shake-up.

Hednesford had half a chance to take the lead when a 15th minute free-kick into the box from Chris Clements wasn't dealt with by Banbury United goalkeeper Joe Murrell but the youngster was able to claim the ball at the second attempt.

Town took the lead though on 20 minutes when a great through ball from Ross Davidson picked out Patterson and after playing a one-two with keeper Murrell he slotted the ball home into an empty net. The second half was to be a completely different affair as the visitors pushed the Pitmen hard for a leveller.

Delroy Gordon saw a shot was cleared off the line by Clements and the Pitmen knew it was going to be their evening when on 80 minutes Banbury's Joe Coleman saw his shot take a deflection and hit the inside of the post. The ball ran kindly to substitute Henry Rose but with the goal at his mercy goalkeeper Dan Crane somehow got across to deny him.

Injury blow as Hayes stretch unbeaten run

HIGHGATE UNITED 1 HEATH HAYES 1

AGAINST their bogy side, Heath Hayes stretched their unbeaten Midland Alliance run to six games.

It was a very tired looking performance played on a bone hard bumpy pitch which was a complete contrast to conditions of late. Hayes suffered a blow after only 10 minutes when Ben Haseley had to leave the field with a severely sprained ankle. He was replaced by Chris Deakin who himself was carrying a knock.

The visitors took the lead on 25 minutes when Alan Haycock found space down the right and laid a perfect ball to Dave Waple who fired home from 15 yards.

Higigate equalised on the stroke of half time when Danny Povey's looping header somehow found its way into the net. Hayes had several good chances to wrap up the game but Waple and Deakin should have done better, while Joe McNulty, the visitors' best player on the day, saw a splendid 20 yard drive well saved by Craig Johnson.

Hayes finished the game with nine fit men losing Haycock and Andrew Davis.

Oh oh seven as leaders run riot

COALVILLE TOWN 7 HEATH HAYES 0

PLAYING their seventh game in 12 days a patched up Heath Hayes side felt the full might of the powerful Midland Alliance leaders and FA Vase semi-finalists Coalville Town.

With six regular first team players missing through injury or suspension it was always going to be a difficult task but too many basic errors and several dubious decisions from the officials meant it was a sorry night for the visitors.

Goals from Matt Moore on nine and 12 minutes, Ashley Wells (28), Craig Attwood (35) and Jerome Murdoch (44) left the visitors trailing 5-0 at half time.

The second half was better from a Hayes point of view. They had to make three substitutions at half-time and for a while they gave as good as they got but again simple basic errors gifted Matt Gardner and Ryan Robbins two late goals to end a night which Hayes will have to put behind them and regroup ready for the visit of Boldmere St Michaels tonight (Thursday). Kick off is at 7.45pm.

Pitmen keep up pressure

SWINDON SUPERMARINE 1

HEDNESFORD TOWN 2

A 92nd minute strike from Kyle Patterson ensured Hednesford Town kept the pressure on the sides above them in the play-off places.

The home side had the early pressure and Hednesford had goalkeeper Dan Crane to thank for keeping them level when he denied striker Ashan Holgate from point-blank range on 10 minutes.

Following a number of debatable decision's against both sides by the referee, Pitman assistant manager Larry Chambers was dismissed from the dugout for something he said to the official.

In the 28th minute Hednesford took the lead though. Midfielder Ross Davidson's burst forward was unceremoniously halted by Dave Bampton, for which the Swindon player was cautioned.

Chris Clements stepped up and curled a 25-yard free-kick low into the far corner of the net with the ball taking a slight deflection.

As the players were walking back to the half-way line Bampton was shown a second yellow and dismissed after continuing to chastise the referee.

A wonder save by James Rae denied Jay Denny on 37 minutes and four minutes into the second half the hosts drew level when substitute Jon Beeden poked the ball home after seeing his initial shot cleared away off the line.

Just as it seemed the game was heading for a draw Patterson picked the ball up some 30-yards out and drove forward before unleashing a 25-yard effort which flew past the keeper and into the bottom corner.
